Chitra,2024-12-15 Drawing Coastlines reveals the ways that technical images such as weather infographics sea level projections and surveys are fast remaking Mumbai s coasts and coastal futures They set in place infrastructural interventions vocabularies of development and conservation and their lines and dots inscribe material conditions of existence and horizons of loss that entangle life forms V Chitra interlaces graphics and text by redrawing scientific images the moments of their construction the choices and consequences of what gets drawn and what does not and how images are seen performed and manifest These visual reconstructions show how images remake human nonhuman relationships arrange urban politics and materialize landscapes in complex and contradictory ways The multimodal format of Drawing Coastlines engages in the politics of its context where words and images combine to create coastal worlds and to find through a creative anthropology openings to build new forms of care in the midst of crisis Religion in Uniform Edward Waggoner,2019-10-03 Religion in Uniform argues powerfully that Americans must reform their military s chaplaincy Americans fund this public project to serve all persons in the armed forces but the chaplaincy currently fails to do so Waggoner shows that Americans support for keeping chaplain positions in the military has always rested on a mix of political military and religious rationales that continue to evolve He argues political military and theological reasons to eradicate bias gender discrimination and sexual violence in the chaplain corps and to stop the use of chaplains in strategic roles abroad Acknowledging that Christian groups are providing the strongest support for the chaplaincy s status quo Waggoner contests the specific theological claims that underwrite their policies He launches a new critical and constructive discussion about US military religion for the twenty first century Climate Change and the Bay of Bengal Sanjay Chaturvedi,2016-04-29 Climate Change and the Bay of Bengal argues that in the era of climate change radically different understandings of security and sovereignty are at work It questions the geopolitics of fear and the manner in which metanarratives of climate change tend to privilege the e globale and e nationale scales over other scales especially the regional and the local The authors argue in favour of a new imagination of the Bay of Bengal space as a semi enclosed sea embedded in a large marine ecosystem under the relevant provisions of the UNCLOS that impose various obligations upon its signatories to cooperate at a regional level Such an imagination anchored in geographies of hope should not remain confined to official domains and discourses but become a part of popular socio spatial consciousness through a regional public diplomacy reaching out to the grassroots level A Bay of Bengal regional seas programme under the auspices of UNEP should be conceptualized and operationalized in a manner that explicitly factors in climate change consequences into the existing understandings and approaches to environmental human security in the region Environmental Quality and Regional Conflict Donald Kennedy,David Holloway,1998
