The Contemporary American Survival Film Cassice Last, 2025-04-17 The Contemporary American Survival Film investigates and breaks down the contemporary American Survival Film from Cast Away onwards, focusing on film, television, literature, and video games. In the contemporary and highly popular American survival film, a lone figure is lost, trapped, or stuck. Whether a desert island, cramped canyon, floating raft, or the Alaskan tundra, the space cuts the characters off from their loved ones, communication technologies, transport, or a means of escape. The sun burns flesh, the dry air dehydrates, the lack of food starves, the snow chills bodies, and the sharp rocks pierce limbs. This book examines this survival space across film, television, video games, literature, and online, asking four questions: Firstly, what does the post-2000s survival space look and behave like, how is it new or distinct? Secondly, the natural environment seems to hold all the power. How responsible is the setting for triggering narrative events? Does the character have any agency at all? Thirdly, the environment damages the human body. How does this corporeal destruction interact with the notion of a specifically American fleshiness of the American survivor? Finally,
