Anonymous Sounds Nessa Johnston, Jamie Sexton, Elodie A. Roy, 2025-01-09 This cross disciplinary collection provides the first comprehensive study of library music practices in the 1960s and 1970s Library music was inexpensive off the shelf music available to license for a small fee It was widely used in television and film as a cheaper alternative to commissioned soundtracks The book pays attention to the different individuals groups organisations and institutions involved in making library music as well as to its transnational sites of production from continental recording studios to regional cutting rooms It addresses questions of distributed creativity collective authorship and agency Combining empirical and theoretical research the book unveils the modus operandi of a highly secretive yet enduringly significant cultural industry By drawing attention to the cultural ubiquity and intersectionality of library music the collection also shifts emphasis from individual film and TV composers to the invisible community of music publishers writers and session musicians It argues that the latter were collectively responsible for fashioning much of the sonic identity of 1960s and 1970s film and television As well as providing a nuanced understanding of historical library music cultures the collection shows how they continue to inform contemporary audiovisual cultures

Show Music, 1996 Concerto for Cootie Steven C. Bowie, 2025-10-24 Jazz legend Cootie Williams left home to start his career as a professional musician at the age of fifteen In 1940 after eleven years as one of the major soloists with the Duke Ellington orchestra Williams was lured away to the band of Benny Goodman one of the most popular bands in the country At the time it was a controversial move it was still taboo for African Americans to share the bandstand with white people Current references reduce it to a song written by Raymond Scott When Cootie Left the Duke In reality it was a seismic event The Black press predicted Black bands would collapse from raids on their ranks White musicians were afraid they would be put out of work And the white press stirred up visions of Black musicians mixing with white women in the new landscape of integrated orchestras The twenty years trumpeter Williams spent as a band leader 1942 1962 have been covered in only the barest of details His involvement in politics and the civil rights movement have not been detailed before An astute talent scout Williams and his band launched the careers of Eddie Cleanhead Vinson Earl Bud Powell Eddie Lockjaw Davis and Pearl Bailey He also was the first to record the music of a young Thelonious Monk using two of Monk s compositions Epistrophy and Round Midnight as theme songs for his band Steven C Bowie respectfully tells Williams s story from his Alabama ancestry onward including many new details rediscovered from the historical archives of the African American press and those gleaned from the author s interviews with his friends and colleagues
