

Pastor Appreciation Speech

The speeches below are just samples of what you expect when you subscribe to our special page that saves you time.

We understand how difficult it is to hustle around the internet searching for a good speech to deliver during the pastor appreciation ceremony in the church.

We come to you as a bridge, to make sure you have enough time to prepare and have that mood of delivering a good speech.

We have gone a milestone to make ready a modified speech that you can just download and insert your name and there you are ready for the speech.

Good-morning my fellow church members!

It's a great honor to stand before you today, and want to thank God for allowing me to make these special remarks during this day.

A day when we are celebrating a special occasion in our church,

We all know that it's pastor appreciation day when we remember about our pastor and how God has used him to be of beneficial to our church,

We want to praise and glorify our loving God who is in heaven for the wonders and many things done to us

Being alive and seeing this day is the greatest miracle of our lives,

I want to extend a warm welcome to each and every one of you for finding time to be here to witness the goodness of our Lord in this church,

As we extend our sincere appreciation to our almighty God for great things done to our church, we can also recognize what God has done to us through our pastor. We can count so many blessings in our lives and say May our Lord live forever.

As we commence this day, we want to ask our God to guide us and be with us until we finish this day well,

He has promised to always be with us even up to the end of the world,

McPherson, Evangelos Himonides, 2020-07-17 Music is one of the most universal ways of expression and communication in human life and is present in the everyday lives of people of all ages and from all cultures around the world Music represents an enjoyable activity in and of itself but its influence goes beyond simple amusement Listening to music singing playing composing and improvising individually and collectively are common activities for many people these activities not only allow the expression of personal inner states and feelings but also can bring many positive effects to those who engage in them There is an increasing wealth of literature concerning the wider benefits of musical activity and research in the sciences associated with music suggests that there are many dimensions of human life physical social psychological including cognitive and emotional which can be affected positively by music The impact that musical activity has on human life can be found in different processes including a transfer of learning from the musical to another cognitive domain Abilities that have been developed through music education and training may also be effectively applied in other cognitive tasks Engagement in successful music activity may also have a positive impact on social skills and social inclusion thus supporting the participation of the individual in collective and collaborative musical events The promotion of social participation through music can foster many kinds of inclusion including intercultural intergenerational and support for those who are differently abled The aim of this Research Topic is to present a diverse range of original articles that investigate and discuss in different ways the crucial role that musical activity can play in human development and well being The Evolution of Rhythm

Cognition: Timing in Music and Speech Andrea Ravignani, Henkjan Honing, Sonja A. Kotz, 2018-07-24 Human speech and music share a number of similarities and differences One of the closest similarities is their temporal nature as both i develop over time ii form sequences of temporal intervals possibly differing in duration and acoustical marking by different spectral properties which are perceived as a rhythm and iii generate metrical expectations Human brains are particularly efficient in perceiving producing and processing fine rhythmic information in music and speech However a number of critical questions remain to be answered Where does this human sensitivity for rhythm arise How did rhythm cognition develop in human evolution How did environmental rhythms affect the evolution of brain rhythms Which rhythm specific neural circuits are shared between speech and music or even with other domains Evolutionary processes long time scales often prevent direct observation understanding the psychology of rhythm and its evolution requires a close fitting integration of different perspectives First empirical observations of music and speech in the field are contrasted and generate testable hypotheses Experiments exploring linguistic and musical rhythm are performed across sensory modalities ages and animal species to address questions about domain specificity development and an evolutionary path of rhythm Finally experimental insights are integrated via synthetic modeling generating testable predictions about brain oscillations underlying rhythm cognition and its evolution Our understanding of the cognitive neurobiological and evolutionary bases of rhythm is rapidly increasing However researchers in different fields often work on parallel potentially converging strands with little mutual awareness This research topic builds a bridge across several disciplines focusing on the cognitive neuroscience of rhythm as an evolutionary process It includes contributions encompassing although not limited to 1 developmental and comparative studies of rhythm e g critical acquisition periods innateness 2 evidence of rhythmic behavior in other species both spontaneous and in controlled experiments 3 comparisons of rhythm processing in music and speech e g behavioral experiments systems neuroscience perspectives on music speech networks 4 evidence on rhythm processing across modalities and domains 5 studies on rhythm in interaction and context social affective etc 6 mathematical and computational e g connectionist symbolic models of rhythmicity as an evolved behavior
