Muting White Noise Muting White Noise:

Muting White Noise James H. Cox, 2012-11-19 Native American fiction writers have confronted Euro American narratives about Indians and the colonial world those narratives help create These Native authors offer stories in which Indians remake this colonial world by resisting conquest and assimilation sustaining their cultures and communities and surviving In Muting White Noise James H Cox considers how Native authors have liberated our imaginations from colonial narratives Cox takes his title from Sherman Alexie for whom the white noise of a television set represents the white mass produced culture that mutes American Indian voices Cox foregrounds the work of Native intellectuals in his readings of the American Indian novel tradition He thereby develops a critical perspective from which to re see the role played by the Euro American novel tradition in justifying and enabling colonialism By examining novels by Native authors especially Thomas King Gerald Vizenor and Alexie Cox shows how these writers challenge and revise colonizers tales about Indians He then offers red readings of some revered Euro American novels including Herman Melville's Moby Dick and shows that until quite recently even those non Native storytellers who sympathized with Indians could imagine only their vanishing by story's end Muting White Noise breaks new ground in literary criticism It stands with Native authors in their struggle to reclaim their own narrative space and tell stories that empower and nurture rather than undermine and erase American Indians and their communities

Exploration Geophysics Mamdouh R. Gadallah, Ray Fisher, 2008-11-04 Many text books have been written on the subject Exploration Geophysics The majority of these texts focus on the theory and the mathematical treatment of the subject matter but lack treatment of practical aspects of geophysical exploration This text is written in simple English to explain the physical meaning of jargon or terms used in the industry It describes how seismic data is acquired in 2 D and 3 D how they are processed to convert the raw data to seismic vertical and horizontal cross sections that are geologically meaningful and how these and other data are interpreted to delineate a prospect Workshops are included after each chapter and are designed to reinforce learning of the concepts presented Key Features Written in simple easy to understand language Heavily illustrated to aid in understanding the text End of chapter Key words and workshop The text includes several appendices and answers for the selected workshop problems

Tribal Fantasies J. Mackay, D. Stirrup, 2012-12-28 This transnational collection discusses the use of Native American imagery in twentieth and twenty first century European culture With examples ranging from Irish oral myth through the pop image of Indians promulgated in pornography to the philosophical appropriations of Ernst Bloch or the European far right contributors illustrate the legend of the Indian Drawing on American Indian literary nationalism postcolonialism and transnational theories essays demonstrate a complex nexus of power relations that seemingly allows European culture to build its own Native images and ask what effect this has on the current treatment of indigenous peoples

Beyond Settler Time Mark Rifkin, 2017-02-02 What does it mean to say that Native peoples exist in the present In Beyond Settler Time Mark Rifkin investigates the dangers of seeking to include Indigenous peoples within settler temporal frameworks Claims that Native peoples should be recognized as coeval with Euro Americans Rifkin argues implicitly treat dominant non native ideologies and institutions as the basis for defining time itself How though can Native peoples be understood as dynamic and changing while also not assuming that they belong to a present inherently shared with non natives Drawing on physics phenomenology queer studies and postcolonial theory Rifkin develops the concept of settler time to address how Native peoples are both consigned to the past and inserted into the present in ways that normalize non native histories geographies and expectations Through analysis of various kinds of texts including government documents film fiction and autobiography he explores how Native experiences of time exceed and defy such settler impositions In underscoring the existence of multiple temporalities Rifkin illustrates how time plays a crucial role in Indigenous peoples expressions of sovereignty and struggles for self determination

Ill-Made Mute Cecilia Dart-Thornton, 2011-03-25 Book I in the Bitterbynde trilogy and a landmark debut in the realm of Fantasy writing In a world where creatures of legend haunt countryside and forest to be caught outside after dark means almost certain death so the inhabitants of Isse Tower are amazed when a mute starving foundling is discovered outside their gates With no recollection of either its name or past the child comes to realize that the only hope of happiness lies with a wise woman residing in distant Caermelor But to get there the newly named Imrhien must survive a wilderness of endless danger Lost and pursued by unhuman wights Imrhien is eventually saved by Thorn a mysterious and handsome ranger but unknown to them both a dark force has summoned the Unseelie and malignant hordes amass in the night

The Future Imaginary in Indigenous North American Arts and Literatures Kristina Baudemann, 2021-12-30 This book examines the future in Indigenous North American speculative literature and digital arts Asking how different Indigenous works imagine the future and how they negotiate settler colonial visions of what is to come the chapters illustrate that the future is not an immutable entity but a malleable textual digital product that can function as both a colonial tool and a catalyst for decolonization Central to this study is the development of a methodology that helps unearth the signifying structures producing the future in selected works by Darcie Little Badger Gerald Vizenor Stephen Graham Jones Skawennati Danis Goulet Scott Benesiinaabandan Postcommodity Kite Jeff Barnaby and Ryan Singer Drawing on Jason Lewis s future imaginary as the theoretical core the book describes the various forms of textual representation and virtual simulation through which notions of Indigenous continuation are expressed in literary and new media works Arguing that Indigenous authors and artists apply the aesthetics of the future as a strategy in their works the volume conceptualizes its multimedia corpus as a continuously growing archive of and for Indigenous futures

Bad Land Pastoralism in Great Plains Fiction Matthew J. C. Cella, 2010-04-15 At the core of this nuanced book is the question that ecocritics have been debating for decades what is the relationship between aesthetics and activism between art and community By using a pastoral lens to examine ten fictional narratives that chronicle the dialogue between human culture and nonhuman nature on the Great Plains Matthew Cella explores literary treatments of a succession of abrupt cultural transitions from the Euroamerican conquest of the Indian wilderness in the nineteenth century to the Buffalo Commons phenomenon in the twentieth By charting the shifting meaning of land use and biocultural change in the region he posits this bad land the arid West as a crucible for the development of the human imagination Each chapter deals closely with two novels that chronicle the same crisis within the Plains community Cella highlights for example how Willa Cather reconciles her persistent romanticism with a growing disillusionment about the future of rural Nebraska how Tillie Olsen and Frederick Manfred approach the tragedy of the Dust Bowl with strikingly similar visions and how Annie Proulx and Thomas King use the return of the buffalo as the centerpiece of a revised mythology of the Plains as a palimpsest defined by layers of change and response By illuminating these fictional quests for wholeness on the Great Plains Cella leads us to understand the intricate interdependency of people and the places they inhabit Cella uses the term pastoralism in its broadest sense to mean a mode of thinking that probes the relationship between nature and culture a discourse concerned with human engagement material and nonmaterial with the nonhuman community In all ten novels discussed in this book pastoral experience the encounter with the Beautiful leads to a renewed understanding of the integral connection between human and nonhuman communities Propelling this tradition of bad land pastoralism are an underlying faith in the beauty of wholeness that comes from inhabiting a continuously changing biocultural landscape and a recognition of the inevitability of change The power of story and language to shape the direction of that change gives literary pastoralism the potential to support an alternative series of ideals based not on escape but on stewardship community continuity and commitment

Sherman Alexie Jeff Berglund, Jan Roush, 2011-10-31 A collection of critical essays on the writing and films of American Indian author Sherman Alexie

Fictions of Female Education in the Nineteenth Century Jaime Osterman Alves, 2009-03-11 Seeking to understand how literary texts both shaped and reflected the century's debates over adolescent female education this book examines fictional works and historical documents featuring descriptions of girls' formal educational experiences between the 1810s and the 1890s Alves argues that the emergence of schoolgirl culture in nineteenth century America presented significant challenges to subsequent constructions of normative femininity The trope of the adolescent schoolgirl was a carrier of shifting cultural anxieties about how formal education would disrupt the customary maid wife mother cycle and turn young females off to prevailing gender roles By tracing the figure of the schoolgirl at crossroads between educational and other institutions in texts written by and about girls from a variety of racial ethnic and class backgrounds this book transcends the limitations of separate spheres inquiry and enriches our understanding of how girls negotiated complex gender roles in the nineteenth century

Deep Waters Christopher B.

Teuton, 2018-11-01 Weaving connections between indigenous modes of oral storytelling visual depiction and contemporary American Indian literature Deep Waters demonstrates the continuing relationship between traditional and contemporary Native American systems of creative representation and signification Christopher B Teuton begins with a study of Mesoamerican writings Din sand paintings and Haudenosaunee wampum belts He proposes a theory of how and why indigenous oral and graphic means of recording thought are interdependent their functions and purposes determined by social political and cultural contexts The center of this book examines four key works of contemporary American Indian literature by N Scott Momaday Gerald Vizenor Ray A Young Bear and Robert J Conley Through a textually grounded exploration of what Teuton calls the oral impulse the graphic impulse and the critical impulse we see how and why various types of contemporary Native literary production are interrelated and draw from long standing indigenous methods of creative representation Teuton breaks down the disabling binary of orality and literacy offering readers a cogent historically informed theory of indigenous textuality that allows for deeper readings of Native American cultural and literary expression

No More Peace Oliver Baker, 2025-02-25 Racial capitalism is and was not inevitable At every point in US history the exploited and dispossessed rebelled for an alternative future In No More Peace Oliver Baker highlights how numerous insurrections revolts and armed campaigns of enslaved and colonized people advanced abolition war as the movement to win collective life over class society in North America From this aim abolition war became the motor force for constant white counterrevolution This puts America's history of class struggles in a revealing new light Through historical analysis literary critique and theory Baker shows how Black and Indigenous rebels developed insights about counterrevolution precisely through their militant confrontation with it Unearthing these critical insights Baker shows how US capitalism was reproduced and expanded through the long history of white counterrevolution Whiteness and settler colonialism developed as anti Black and anti Indigenous alliances formed across class difference to organize people to police or soldier for capitalism In No More Peace we relive moments of radical abolition and anticolonialism particularly those of Nat Turner Harriet Tubman John Brown and the Seminoles that also ruptured counterrevolution Slavery and settler colonialism were always uncertain projects vulnerable to defeat collapse and ruin by those who resisted Racial capitalism was always contingent
