the Higher Education Act of 1965 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Human Resources.

Subcommittee on Education, Arts, and Humanities, 1991 This volume presents transcripts of seven hearings held in May 1991 on the reauthorization of the Higher Education Act of 1965 Of the hearings held in the District of Columbia the first focused on the Pell Grant and Stafford Loan programs and featured witnesses from around the country addressing educational finance The second hearing focused on the process of accreditation certification and licensing that determines institutional participation in the Federal student aid programs and featured witnesses from educational institutions and professional associations The final hearing presented the testimony of college executives representatives of educational associations and others on Title VI which supports international education and Title III concerned with institutional aid and funding for institutional facilities The hearings in other cities provided an opportunity for legislators to hear additional suggestions and recommendations from students teachers administrators institutional executives and state agencies on the reauthorization of higher education programs Included are the prepared statements of the witnesses as well as additional statements correspondence and supplemental material JB Planning for Community-based Disaster Resilience Worldwide Adenrele Awotona, 2016-10-14 We are witnessing an ever increasing level and intensity of disasters from Ecuador to Ethiopia and beyond devastating millions of ordinary lives and causing long term misery for vulnerable populations Bringing together 26 case studies from six continents this volume provides a unique resource that discusses in considerable depth the multifaceted matrix of natural and human made disasters It examines their bearing on the loss of human and productive capital the conduct of national policies and the setting of national development priorities and on the nature of international aid and bilateral assistance strategies and programs of donor countries In order to ensure the efficacy and appropriateness of their support for disaster survivors international agencies humanitarian and disaster relief organizations scholars non governmental organizations and members of the global emergency management community need to have insight into best practices and lessons learned from various disasters across national and cultural boundaries The evidence obtained from the numerous case studies in this volume serves to build a worldwide community that is better informed about the cultural and traditional contexts of such disasters and better enabled to prepare for respond to and finally rebuild sustainable communities after disasters in different environments The main themes of the case studies include the need for community planning and emergency management to unite in order to achieve the mutual aim of creating a sustainable disaster resilient community coupled with the necessity to enact and implement appropriate laws policies and development regulations for disaster risk reduction the need to develop a clear set of urban planning and urban design principles for improving the built environment s capacities for disaster risk management through the integration of disaster risk reduction education into the curricula of colleges and universities the need to engage the whole community to build inclusive governance structures as prerequisites for addressing climate change vulnerability and fostering resilience and sustainability Furthermore the case studies explore the need to link the existence and value of scientific knowledge accumulated in various countries with decision making in disaster risk management and the relevance and transferability from one cultural context to another of the lessons learned in building institutional frameworks for whole community partnerships The China Boom Ho-fung Hung, 2015-10-20 Many thought China s rise would fundamentally remake the global order Yet much like other developing nations the Chinese state now finds itself in a status quo characterized by free trade and American domination Through a cutting edge historical sociological and political analysis Ho fung Hung details the competing interests and economic realities that temper the dream of Chinese supremacy forces that are stymieing growth throughout the global South Hung focuses on four common misconceptions that China could undermine orthodoxy by offering an alternative model of growth that China is radically altering power relations between the East and the West that China is capable of diminishing the global power of the United States and that the Chinese economy would restore the world's wealth after the 2008 financial crisis His work reveals how much China depends on the existing order and how the interests of the Chinese elites maintain these ties Through its perpetuation of the dollar standard and its addiction to U S Treasury bonds China remains bound to the terms of its own prosperity and its economic practices of exploiting debt bubbles are destined to fail Hung ultimately warns of a postmiracle China that will grow increasingly assertive in attitude while remaining constrained in capability Foreign Relations of the United States United States.
