No Wings to Fly Abraham Biar Chol, 2011-07-19 I m born from Dinka tribes where Polygamy is predominantly pride of cultural values in Southern Sudan Eastern Africa My mother is the last of the eleven wives of my father and Im the last born of the fifty siblings I am not exactly sure of my birth date because of no written records from my parents However based on the date that was given to me by the United Nation I was born in 1984 and grew up in a traditional cattle herding from Pakeer Ciir in Jongeli State In the late 1980s I was only four years old child amongst the fifty siblings living an incredible life of illiteracy The nomadic cattle life values a lot more than education So education was not something I ever dream of My peers and I played different games that dont exist in the western countries when we were at our sweet village where there was no electricity or clean waters Those games such as Gugura molding cows from clay and the Dinka games of kids playing marrying your wife and built toggles and slept in it while looking after calves was the best game we enjoyed the most as kids We were very much happy like the rest of the kids before the Sudanese government troops began bombarded our village from the sky with helicopters and Russians made airstrikes antinovels in Arabic In 1987 when Civil war reaches its climax and Sudanese government keeps sending troops South and burned down our villages to ashes and obliterated the entire villages I fled into the bush with my brothers and cousins when we were looking after cattle to escape the bullets and not to be captured and made slaves The chaos and violence that happened forced me to fled into the bush when bullets were whizzing in the air and burning smoke at nearby village rise up high into the sky This led to uprooting and drifting through horrendous lives I never imagined My first nights ever in the bush were horrible which led to unknown journey of which none of my great grand parents or parents ever had been before We then became orphaned and began to walked thousands miles on foot to Ethiopia guided by army rebels known as Sudan Peoples Liberation Army SPLA not to be killed or kidnapped by Murle militiamen on the way On our way I witnessed the deaths of cousins friends and colleagues Besides I witness the born and sculpture of humans remains on the way that I had never seen before During the journey I starved to death and got thirsty to the point were I drank my own urines to quenched my thirsty for the survival Through my entire time I had lived in refugees camps for fourteen years before coming to America I passed through hunger violence and fatigues and became malnourish child living on one cup of maize and one cup of beans of which to last for six days The violence and suffering I went through had left very many people dead from Sudan to Ethiopian and then Sudan to Kenya but not sure of what kept me alive I am very happy that with God's grace I am who I am today In April 3 2001 I came to Rochester New York and later joined by my close friend Peter Agok I had lived in Rochester for the past ten years On my arrival to the United States I had often faced with cultural shocks and shaken by F and B words an Americans favor expressions while adapting to Americans life both at work and school I had been chasing Americans dreams and the dreams are too far yet to be reach During the course of stays at U S A I went to high school for a year before enrolled at Community College to improved my English After two years at Community College I transferred to University of Rochester and graduated in May 2007 with major in Biology and minor in Chemistry I work at Xerox Webster New York and looking forward to go back to school and pursuit field in medicine specially Pharmacy to return back to Sudan to alleviate the suffering my people are experiencing

The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting Alessandro Moretti,2023-02-10 This book presents an ethnographic study of contemporary ticket touts in the UK Despite the recent interest in the topic of black market ticket sales media coverage and parliamentary interventions over the last ten years have revealed a widespread lack of knowledge with regard to the phenomenon of touting and the players engaging in the practice The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting sheds light on the world of touting and delivers an authentic picture of the individuals involved of their methods values and motivations for performing ticket touting as an organised entrepreneurial deviant activity The touts varied methods of buying and selling tickets the hierarchical structures and strict ethos of their criminal organisations and their specific modi operandi for evading detection and arrest both on the streets and online are focal points of the study Of equal importance are the touts attitudes perceptions and adaptations to or outright dismissal of society's legal and moral frameworks This book illuminates why historic and renewed attempts to challenge ticket touting have been unsuccessful focusing on inadequate legislation a lack of enforcement and the widespread corruption and exploitable loopholes that exist within the official primary ticket market An accessible and compelling read The Rise and Rise of Illegal Ticket Touting will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology social policy policing and all those with an interest in live music and sport and the hidden practices that lurk beneath the surface The Official America Online Tour Guide Tom Lichty,1992 CompTIA Security+ Certification Guide Ian Neil,2018-09-29 This is a practical certification guide covering all the exam topics in an easy to follow manner backed with mock tests and self assessment scenarios for better preparation Key FeaturesLearn cryptography and various cryptography algorithms for real world implementationsDiscover security policies plans and procedures to protect your security infrastructure Written by Ian Neil one of the world's top CompTIA Security SY0 501 trainerBook Description CompTIA Security is a worldwide certification that establishes the fundamental knowledge required to perform core security functions and pursue an IT security career CompTIA Security Certification Guide is a best in class exam study guide that covers all of CompTIA Security 501 exam objectives It is authored by Ian Neil who is a world class trainer of CompTIA Security 501 Packed with self assessment scenarios and realistic exam questions this guide will help you master the core concepts to succeed in the exam the first time you take it Using relevant examples you will learn all the important security fundamentals from Certificates and Encryption to Identity and Access Management concepts You will then dive into the important domains of the exam namely threats attacks and vulnerabilities technologies and tools architecture and design risk management and cryptography and Public Key Infrastructure PKI This book comes with over 600 practice questions with detailed explanation that is at the exam level and also includes two mock exams to help you with your study plan This guide will ensure that encryption and certificates are made easy for you What you will learnGet to grips with security fundamentals from Certificates and Encryption to Identity and Access ManagementSecure devices and applications that are used by your companyIdentify the different types of malware and virus and take appropriate actions to protect against themProtect your environment against social engineering and advanced attacksImplement PKI conceptsLearn about secure coding techniques quality control and testingTroubleshoot common security issuesWho this book is for This book is designed for anyone who is seeking to pass the CompTIA Security SY0 501 exam It is a stepping stone for anyone who wants to become a security professional or move into cyber security This certification guide assumes no prior knowledge of the product Fair Shake Naomi Cahn,June Carbone,Nancy Levit,2025-08-05 A stirring comprehensive look at the state of women in the workforce why women's progress has stalled how our economy fosters unproductive competition and how we can fix the system that holds women back In an era of supposed equality women are falling behind in the workplace faster than before a trend exacerbated by Covid 19 Even with more women in the workforce than in decades past wage gaps continue to increase It is the most educated women who have fallen the furthest from behind Blue collar women hold the most insecure and badly paid jobs in our economy And even as we celebrate high profile representation women on the board of Fortune 500 companies and our first female vice president women have limited recourse when they experience harassment and discrimination Fair Shake Women and the Fight to Build a Just Economy explains that the system that governs our economy a winner take all economy is the root cause of these myriad problems The WTA self selects aggressive cutthroat business tactics which creates a feedback loop that sidelines women The authors three legal scholars call this feedback loop the triple bind if women don t compete on the same terms as men they lose if women do compete on the same terms as men they re punished more harshly for their sharp elbows or actual misdeeds and when women see that they can t win on the same terms as men they take themselves out of the game as if they haven t been pushed out already With odds like these stacked against them it s no wonder women feel like no matter how hard they work they can t get ahead Drawing on rich storytelling often found in legal documents Fair Shake makes a compelling case for why existing laws fail to protect women It not only diagnoses the problem of what s wrong with the modern economy but shows how with awareness and collective action we can build a truly just economy for all Sports Agent Responsibility and Trust Act : hearing before the Subcommittee on Commercial and Administrative Law of the Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, One Hundred Eighth Congress, first session, on H.R. 361, May 15, 2003 United States.
