Signs for Developing Reading Emil Holmer, 2016-05-23 Reading development is supported by strong language skills not least in deaf and hard of hearing DHH children. The work in the present thesis investigates reading development in DHH children who use sign language attend Regional Special Needs Schools RSNS in Sweden and are learning to read. The primary aim of the present work was to investigate whether the reading skills of these children can be improved via computerized sign language based literacy training. Another aim was to investigate concurrent and longitudinal associations between skills in reading sign language and cognition in this population. The results suggest that sign language based literacy training may support development of word reading. In addition awareness and manipulation of the sub lexical structure of sign language seem to assist word reading and imitation of familiar signs i.e. vocabulary may be associated with developing reading comprehension. The associations revealed between sign language skills and reading development support the notion that sign language skills provide a foundation for emerging reading skills in DHH signing children. In addition the results also suggest that working memory and Theory of Mind ToM are related to reading comprehension in this population. Furthermore the results indicate that sign language experience enhances the establishment of representations of manual gestures and that progression in ToM seems to be typical although delayed in RSNS pupils. Working memory has a central role in integrating environmental stimuli and language mediated representations and thereby provides a platform for cross modal language processing and multimodal language development. En god språklig förmåga bidrar till god läsutveckling inte minst hos döv- och hörselskadade DHH barn. Studierna som ingår i avhandlingen undersöker läsutveckling hos DHH elever som gör teckenspråkiga specialskolor och som hellre på att lära sig att läsa. Arbetets huvudsakliga syfte var att undersöka om deras läsförmåga kan förbättras via datoriserad teckenspråksbaserad lästräning. Ett annat syfte var att undersöka samtida och longitudinella samband mellan läsförmåga teckenspråk och kognition i samma population. Resultaten indikerar att teckenspråksbaserad lästräning kan bidra till ordläsningsutveckling. Vidare pekar resultaten på att medvetenhet om och manipulation av teckenspråkets sublexikala struktur stöttar läsförmågan och dessutom att imitation av kända tecken i.e. vokabulär var associerat med utvecklingen av barnens läsförståelse. Dessa fynd visar att teckenspråkskunskaper kan utgöra en grund för läsutveckling hos teckenspråkiga DHH elever. Resultaten indikerade även att arbetsminne och Theory of Mind ToM relaterade till läsförståelse i denna grupp. Vid sidan av resultaten rörande läsutveckling framkom också att teckenspråksfärdighet leder till starkare etablering av representationer av manuella gester och vidare att barnens mentaliseringsförmåga Theory of Mind uppvisade en förväntad progression om närvarande. En implikation av detta är att insatser som stöttar utveckling av teckenbaserade representationer och deras användning vid bearbetning av skrivet språk kan främja läsutveckling hos teckenspråkiga DHH elever. Arbetsminne försls genom sin roll i integration mellan inkommande stimuli och språkmedierade representationer fungera som en plattform för modalitetsverskridande språkbearbetning och multimodal språkutveckling. Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home And schools probably exert more influence on children's development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development. Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom level influences such as teacher-student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies. Cross-Disciplinary: this volume brings together the divergent perspectives, methods, and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines, among them educational psychology, developmental psychology, school psychology, social psychology, psychiatry, sociology, and educational policy. Chapter Structure: to ensure continuity, chapter authors describe 1) how schooling influences are conceptualized, 2) identify their theoretical and methodological approaches, 3) discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research, and 4) highlight implications for future research practice and policy. Methodologies: chapters included in the text feature various methodologies, including longitudinal studies, hierarchical linear models, experimental and quasi-experimental designs, and mixed methods.

English for academic purposes : learning english through the web Barahona Fuentes, Claudia; Arnó Macià, Elisabet; 2001 This is a virtual elective course for university students who need to use English in their academic work. This means that this subject is not related to a particular degree course (engineering, biology, law, etc.) but it aims to help students develop their language learning skills and at the same time to foster extensive practice in language use with the Internet as the basic learning tool. Therefore, this is an instrumental course which is essentially practical and emphasizes communication rather than language study. It differs from a traditional language course in that it has been designed basically as a tool to help students learn to learn English. That is to say, the syllabus is not based on specific language content graded in terms of difficulty but it is composed of a series of practical activities to encourage students to learn English effectively and independently by choosing materials suited to their level of English and to their learning style. For this reason, this course can be taken by students with different levels of English as long as they are familiar with the basic structures of the language and can more or less communicate in English. Forum, 1995

Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexic Readers: Volume II Manuel

Soriano-Ferrer, Simone; Aparecida Capellini, Giseli; Donadon Germano, 2024-03-06 This Research Topic is the second edition of Fluency and reading comprehension in typical readers and dyslexic readers. Volume I. This Second Edition Research Topic is focused on the characterization of the reading-writing difficulties and their comorbidities and in the analysis of evidence-based recommendations for early interventions and treatment of these difficulties within the fields of neuropsychology, speech-language pathology, and educational psychology. Reading involves decoding and comprehension components and to become efficient it requires a large number of cognitive and linguistic processes. Among those decoding failures can have different origins, such as deficits in phonological and/or visual processing. In addition, a child with reading difficulties might also have problems in the acquisition of writing and handwriting performance. This is an important point to be discussed as reading and writing both suffer interference from vocabulary acquisition linguistic skills memory skills reading and writing practices and literacy methods These processes become important only when the professional needs to deal with students presenting learning difficulties Difficulty in using the knowledge of conversion rules between grapheme phoneme to word reading construction or phoneme grapheme for writing can be identified in schoolchildren with dyslexia dysgraphia and dysortography being a specific learning disorder with a neurological etiology In addition there is established evidence of a speech language processing basis students with specific learning disabilities can show a range of cognitive difficulties e g rapid naming executive functioning working memory These presented difficulties interfere in their learning process impairing their learning development
