Unfinished Business Anna Goldsworthy, 2013-06-20 On the surface it seems the best time ever to be a woman in Australia The prime minister governor general and the richest person are all female women are at the forefront of almost every area of public life Yet when Julia Gillard s misogyny speech ricocheted around the world it clearly touched a nerve Why In the fiftieth Quarterly Essay Anna Goldsworthy examines life for women after the gains made by feminism From Facebook to 50 Shades of Grey from Girls to gonzo porn what are young women being told about work and equality about sex and their bodies Why do many reject the feminist label And why does pop culture wink at us with storylines featuring submissive women Unfinished Business is an original look at role models and available options in the age of social media and sexual frankness Goldsworthy finds that progress for women has provoked a backlash from some who wield misogyny as a weapon whether in parliament on talkback radio or as internet trolls With piercing insight and sharp humour she lays bare the dilemmas of being female today and asks how women can truly become free subjects There is a charmed zone for a girl shortly before she is ambushed by puberty At eleven or twelve she is usually taller than her male peers more articulate and more confident than she will be for years She probably spends a lot of time in front of a screen words and images flickering in her eyes Facebook Slutwalks Lady Gaga Girls Mad Men gonzo porn Twilight Fifty Shades of Grey What messages are being broadcast to her and what messages is she hearing Are they going to make her bigger or smaller Anna Goldsworthy Unfinished Business
