Clash Nirmalya Kumar, 2024-03-15 Amazon and Walmart with more than half a trillion in revenues annually are the two largest companies in the world. They have not only redefined the retail industry Walmart in the 1980s 1990s and Amazon since 2000 but have also been the benchmark for business best practices e.g. the use of IT supply chain data analytics customer orientation. This year it is anticipated that Amazon will dethrone Walmart as the world's largest company a position that Walmart has occupied for more than two decades. By examining these two companies and their business models in depth Professor Nirmalya Kumar elucidates on the more general phenomenon of incumbents competing with disruptors e.g. Volkswagen vs Tesla Marriott vs Airbnb as well as the move to omnichannel retail where physical stores must coexist with online retailers.

Stakeholders Mark Englizian, 2025-07-29 People in business ecosystem are more in number and diverse in perspective discussed in business school or written about than often understood. It is foolhardy to believe that a senior leader can ignore or work around these people who possess power and influence over the business and the enterprise. It is up to supervisors managers executives and independent directors to set priorities and make valuebased decisions that constructively benefit all stakeholder groups invested in their business When asked about their experiences on the people side of business most businesspersons respond from their experiences with the human resources department In contrast this book advances the idea of people in business as more than simply a focus on employees Leaders with a holistic view realize the existence of eight major stakeholder groups diverse in makeup and ready to advocate for their own interests While its story is at first quite intimidating laying out the competing agendas of stakeholders and the potential chaos that might ensue this book will not leave the reader hanging it serves up new and proprietary principles never published before that equip business leaders to survive and thrive
