Google Maps Morning Routine Today:

Online Maps with APIs and WebServices Michael P. Peterson, 2012-03-30 The Internet has become the major form of map delivery. The current presentation of maps is based on the use of online services. This session examines developments related to online methods of map delivery, particularly Application Programmer Interfaces (APIs) and MapServices in general, including Google Maps API and similar services. Map mashups have had a major impact on how spatial information is presented. The advantage of using a major online mapping site is that the maps represent a common and recognizable representation of the world. Overlaying features on top of these maps provides a frame of reference for the map user. A particular advantage for thematic mapping is the ability to spatially reference thematic data. Door to Door Edward Humes, 2016-04-12 Thousands of miles are embedded in almost everything we do and touch and purchase but we're scarcely aware of it. A cup of Starbucks coffee materializes in front of us without any signs of the 30,000 miles it has travelled. Behind the scenes, there are grinding commutes, a violent death every 15 minutes on an American highway, and a crushing impact on the environment. By delving into one week in the life of his family in suburban California, their commutes, traffic jams, grocery stops, and online shopping excursions, the author of first-year favorite Garbology reveals the truths and mounting challenges behind every trip we take and every click we make. Freshman Common Read, Indiana University Kelley School of Business.
