Housing and the Credit Crunch Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Communities and Local Government Committee,2009 In this report the Communities and Local Government Committee says the Government must stick to its long term house building targets despite the credit crunch but a greater proportion of the homes built should be social housing The Committee is concerned that the 975 million borrowed by the Government from its 2010 11 budgets to build social rented housing now is not new money and that the Government has been unable to say how that borrowing will be replaced The Committee urges the Department for Communities and Local Government to put pressure on the Treasury to ensure measures to revive the mortgage markets are implemented immediately increase construction of new social housing both to provide for housing need and as a means of maintaining capacity in the homebuilding industry whilst the market recovers accelerate refurbishment programmes for social housing acquire further social housing through the purchase of unsold stock and street properties consider the purchase of unsold family homes which have been on the market for more than a year encourage public sector bodies to make land available for the development of new homes The report also urges the Government to do more to help those at risk of repossession by considering sanctions against lenders who repossess too quickly and by doing more to protect tenants and homeowners from unscrupulous landlords An Office of Fair Trading recommendation for sale and rent back schemes should be implemented as a matter of urgency to protect the growing number of households falling behind in mortgage payments The Committee would like to see more done to support housing associations including increasing social housing grant where necessary authoritative voice Plant-Based Nutrition, 2E Julieanna Hever, Raymond J. Cronise, 2018-01-09 Whether you're vegan, vegetarian, or omnivore, getting your nutrition from plant-based foods is one of the best things you can do for your health, and it's easier than you might think. The science confirms that a diet rich in whole plant-based foods can help your body thrive. In fact, a growing number of physicians advocate a completely plant-based diet for many of their patients who suffer from diabetes, heart disease, and cancer. In this all-new edition, leading plant-based dietitian Julieanna Hever and Ray Cronise, the mastermind behind magician Penn Jillette's 100-pound weight loss transformation, team up to give you everything you need to know about following a plant-based diet, including:

- A wealth of information on the most nutrient-dense foods in the plant kingdom.
- A new Food Triangle representing a completely new way of looking at food and nutrition.
- New perspectives on macronutrients and why categorizing protein, carbs, and fats as food groups causes unnecessary confusion about what to eat.
- The latest science on oxidative stress and how it explains why many common recipes drive unintentional weight gain.
- Healthspan and longevity recommendations based on the latest research.
- All new recipes from celebrity chefs: Matthew Kenney, Dreena Burton, Jazzy Vegetarian, Kathy Patalsky, Robin Robertson, Fran Costigan, Jason Wyrick, and Matt Frazier.
- Sample menus to get you started on a plant-based lifestyle.
- Tips for stocking your kitchen, boosting the nutritional content of your favorite dishes, and dining out healthfully.

The QOD Diet John T. Daugirdas, 2006 QOD is a term used by doctors from Latin English to designate doing something every other day. Quaque Other Die. In the QOD diet, Daugirdas, a physician, comes up with a plan where you eat most of your food every second day. On that day, you eat well but not to excess. On the days in between, you eat only 300-400 calories, but you keep up your intake of key minerals, including sodium, potassium, and calcium, as well as vitamins to keep you feeling strong and well. The goal of the diet is to fool your body a bit. By eating a normal amount of food every other day, your body does not think that you are going into starvation mode, and this keeps your body from turning down its energy-burning thermostat. This makes it easier to lose weight while only modestly restricting total average intake of calories.
