Digital Social Reading Federico Pianzola, 2025-01-21 How digital social reading apps are powerfully changing and nurturing the way we read Conventional wisdom would have us believe that digital technology is a threat to reading but in Digital Social Reading Federico Pianzola argues that reading socially through digital media can help people grow a passion for reading and in some cases even enhance text comprehension Digital social reading DSR is a term that encompasses a wide variety of practices related to the activity of reading and using digital technologies and platforms websites social media mobile apps to share thoughts and impressions about books with others This book is the first systematization of DSR practices drawing on case studies from Wattpad AO3 and Goodreads on a worldwide scale Using a combination of qualitative and computational methods Pianzola offers fresh insight into the reading experience on the scale of big data He discusses the impact of digital technology on reading skills and shows that a change of methodological perspective is necessary to understand the positive potential of DSR for promoting reading more broadly He argues that it is not just the medium that changes but also the context and the attitudes of readers He also asserts that grassroots media and open bottom up communities are crucial to the success of many reading practices today especially with young audiences

How to Judge a Book by its Cover Kate Cuthbert, 2025-11-17 Combining both an industry and research focus How to Judge a Book by its Cover not only judges books by their covers but provides a methodology for others to do the same Despite book titles and book covers having been identified defined and discussed as paratexts beginning first with Gérard Genette and by many paratextual and publishing scholars since there is currently no methodology or defined vocabulary for the analysis and discussion of their creation the intent and effect of their structure and their constituent elements As these paratexts become further and further removed from their texts then like texts they can and should be studied especially as literature is inextricably embedded in industrial and social currents How to Judge a Book by its Cover looks more deeply at book covers and book titles two paratexts that are of broad academic interest but crucial to the placement marketing and commerce of the publishing industry Bringing together paratextual studies publishing studies and media studies visual design analysis and the world of advertising this work marries academic rigour with industry experience to first define the role that book covers and book titles play and then articulate a methodology for their analysis By identifying intent behind book covers and book titles defining the elements that may be achieved in this intent and providing opportunities to measure their success both scholars and industry professionals will have a clear and robust vocabulary in discussions of these key marketing paratexts This book can be used for students and researchers that are interested in media studies paratextual studies publishing internet studies post colonial studies and popular fiction studies
