Visit to the zoo

I recently went on a visit to the zoo, and it was so much fun! I saw all sorts of amazing animals, including lions, giraffes, and monkeys. My favorite part was seeing the elephants, because they were so big and majestic. I also got to see a baby elephant, and it was so cute and playful. I also saw some flamingos, and they were so colorful and graceful. The zoo was a great place to learn about all the different animals and see them up close. I can't wait to go back and see even more amazing creatures.

Reading Across the Life Span Steven R. Yussen, M Cecil Smith, 2012-12-06 One of the liveliest areas of research in the social sciences is reading Scholarly activity is currently proceeding along a number of different disciplinary lines addressing a multitude of questions and issues about reading A short list of disciplines involved in the study of reading would include linguistics psychology education history and gerontology Among the important questions being addressed are some long standing concerns How are reading skills acquired What are the basic components of reading skill How do skilled readers differ from less skilled ones What are the best ways to approach instruction for different groups of readers young beginning readers poor readers with learning problems and teenage and adult illiterates How can reading skill best be measured what standardized instruments and observational techniques are most useful The large volume of textbooks and scholarly books that issue forth each year is clear evidence of the dynamic nature of the field The purpose of this volume is to survey some of the best work going on in the field today and reflect what we know about reading as it unfolds across the life span Reading is clearly an activity that spans each of our lives Yet most accounts of it focus on some narrow period of development and fail to consider the range of questions that serious scholarship needs to address for us to have a richer understanding of reading The book is divided into four parts

An Investigation of Teachers' Questions and Tasks to Develop Reading Comprehension Ghazali Mustapha, 2020-02-03 Teachers are constantly seeking ways to improve their teaching and thereby enhance the learning of their students One method of doing this is to bring critical and creative thinking skills to the forefront of the curriculum This has been emphasized by the Malaysian Ministry of Education via the KBSM syllabus in order to teach critical and creative thinking by considering the use of programs like Bloom s taxonomy of educational objectives in classroom practice This study demonstrates how the higher order skills can be integrated into the secondary school reading curriculum The main aim of the study is to investigate how teachers design reading comprehension questions RCQs and reading comprehension tasks RCTs in relation to the demands of higher order thinking to produce students with critical minds It focuses primarily on the use of COGAFF taxonomy a cognitive affective taxonomy adapted from Bloom s and Krathwohl s to formulate higher order reading questions and tasks as a means to develop critical and creative thinking skills In a pilot study in Britain with forty Malaysian teachers and in the main field study in Malaysia 150 subjects teachers and student teachers have yielded about one thousand RCQs and one thousand RCTs In line with many research findings of question and task design 91 2% of the RCQs and 83 6% of RCTs produced during the pretest were of low order types Subjects attended a workshop emphasizing question and task designing using the COGAFF taxonomy Dramatically during the posttest 74 4% of the RCQs and 80 6% of the RCTs were transformed into higher order inferential forms The other major thrust of the study is to demonstrate how higher order questions can be used to design equally higher order tasks that can be utilized as a thinking skills approach in the teaching of reading comprehension lessons in secondary schools Thinking tools and strategies as suggested by Beyer Guilford Gardner and several others and their implications for the teaching of reading comprehension and training of teachers in Malaysia are also discussed
