Box Office Prices:

Understanding Audiences and the Film Industry Roy Stafford, 2019-07-25 Brings together an introduction to academic study of audiences as readers of films and an investigation into how the film industry perceives audiences as part of its industrial practices The approach draws on ideas from film media and cultural studies to present an insight to what makes the biggest box office films attractive to audiences Internal Revenue News United States. Bureau of Internal Revenue, 1927 Ticket Scalping Kerry Segrave, 2006-11-15 Ticket scalping is as much an American staple as apple pie Beginning as early as the mid 1800s scalpers known as sidewalk men were charging all the traffic would bear for event tickets Although these speculators were generally viewed as pariahs and public opinion was against the practice legal attempts to limit their activities were far from successful Boston enacted laws as early as 1873 while Pennsylvania followed suit in 1884 Still such measures did little good since some laws were declared unconstitutional and for the ones that were upheld the fines were negligible with jail time rarely served Over the years as moral objections to scalping dimmed the public became more tolerant as the practice became increasingly prevalent By the 1990s the capitalist mantras of free market and economic principles of supply and demand were even being used to justify the practice This volume details the ways in which scalping has changed over the years from a one man business to an agency controlled enterprise from performances by Jenny Lind to Billy Joel The book examines the general situation public opinion and legal perception of scalping for four distinct periods 1850 1899 1900 1917 1918 1949 and 1950 2005 Emphasis is placed on the ways in which public and legal perception of the practice has evolved over this period Scalping slowly gaining a more positive status has become more accepted as part of the economic practice of free markets Internal Revenue Bulletin United States. Lind, Frank D. Wagner, 1926 Movies at Home Kerry Segrave, 1999-01-01 The relationship of Hollywood and television initially turbulent has ultimately been profitable from the first sally in what was expected to be a war of attrition up through the soliciting of movies by major networks independent stations basic cable networks premium cable channels pay per view systems and even the corner video store When their initial efforts to acquire ownership interests in television outlets were thwarted Hollywood's major movie studios determined to withhold from the tube not only their films but also their actors no doubt in hopes of making the rival medium appear a weak substitute for cinema With ticket sales shrinking and television set purchases booming the studios erasing their last contemptuously drawn line in the sand grudgingly released their films to television and made a fortune U.S. Industrial
