Authenticating Whiteness Rachel E. Dubrofsky,2022-11-29 In Authenticating Whiteness Karens Selfies and Pop Stars Rachel E Dubrofsky explores the idea that popular media implicitly portrays whiteness as credible trustworthy familiar and honest and that this portrayal is normalized and ubiquitous Whether on television film social media or in the news white people are constructed as believable and unrehearsed from the way they talk to how they look and act Dubrofsky argues that this way of making white people appear authentic is a strategy of whiteness requiring attentiveness to the context of white supremacy in which the presentations unfold The volume details how ideas about what is natural good and wholesome are reified in media showing how these values are implicitly racialized Additionally the project details how white women are presented as particularly authentic when they seem to lose agency by expressing affect through emotional and bodily displays The chapters examine a range of popular media newspaper articles about Donald J Trump a selfie taken at Auschwitz music videos by Miley Cyrus the television series UnREAL the infamous video of Amy Cooper calling the police on an innocent Black man and the documentary Miss Americana pinpointing patterns that cut across media to explore the implications for the larger culture in which they exist At its heart the book asks Who gets to be authentic And what are the implications
