House,2000 Some vols include supplemental journals of such proceedings of the sessions as during the time they were depending were ordered to be kept secret and respecting which the injunction of secrecy was afterwards taken off by the order of the House Seeing Complexity in Public Education Donald Peurach,2011-09-05 In a period of unprecedented pressure to reform education in the United States two questions stand out What is involved in the work of transforming underperforming schools into higher performing schools And what makes this work so difficult Seeing Complexity in Public Education examines these questions in light of the history of the Success for All Foundation an organization that has collaborated with thousands of elementary schools across the US to enact a common design for comprehensive school reform all in the effort to improve the reading achievement of millions of students This story of Success for All spans a long and turbulent period beginning in 1987 with the strategy of improving reading achievement by improving students cooperative learning in classrooms and stretching through 2008 with efforts to influence federal policy to support that strategy There is nothing in the story of Success for All to suggest that schools can be improved through silver bullets stump speeches or passionate debate Rather the theme that emerges from the story of Success for All is that the problems and possibilities of effective large scale and sustainable education reform lie in the complexity of public education in the interactions among underperforming schools programs of reform the organizations that advance those programs and the environments in which they operate The story of Success for All is sobering in that it locates first order problems of education reform not in the schools that need to improve but instead in the many reformers so determined to improve them By tracing Success for All s deep push into the full world of US public education this book assists both populist and professional reformers in seeing understanding and ultimately confronting its complexity

Participation by 16-19 year olds in education and training Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2011-07-19 The Education Committee accepts that changes to student support needed to be made but says that the delay in deciding on allocations and the guiding principles for distribution should not have been allowed to happen The report states that the Government should have done more to acknowledge the Educational Maintenance Allowance s EMA combined impact on participation attainment and retention before it decided how to restructure financial support The bursary scheme which is to replace the EMA will inevitably lead to inconsistencies which could distort young people s choices of where to study It is not persuaded that bursaries administered by schools and colleges will necessarily be fairer or more discriminating than a slimmed down more targeted entitlement such as the EMA The report also highlights the difficulty of transferring data between schools and colleges and encourages the Department for Education to do more to ensure that information about pupils needs can move easily between educational institutions The Committee supports the Government s focus on Apprenticeships but urges it to protect quality at the same time as increasing numbers participating It also urges the Department for Education to fund the National Careers Service to provide face to face careers advice for young people
