Northern Lights Cathy Parker, David Thomas, 2019-06-25 Life is hard in Barrow Alaska. Football mom Cathy Parker first caught a glimpse of this far away reality from the comfort of her Jacksonville Florida living room while watching a 2006 ESPN report on the Barrow Whalers, a high school football team consisting mostly of Alaskan Inupiat Eskimo natives playing in the most difficult of conditions and trying to overcome the most unlikely of odds. These players raised in the northernmost town in the United States where drug abuse is rampant and the high school dropout rate is high found themselves playing on a gravel field using flour to draw the lines. And while the community of Barrow felt a strong pride for their boys, many felt football was not worth the investment. That is until Cathy Parker became involved. Overcome by a surprising stirring in her soul to reach out and help, Cathy was determined to build a suitable field for the Barrow Whalers. Not fully understanding the many obstacles both financially and logistically that would line the path ahead, Cathy charged forward with a determined spirit and a heart for both the football team and the greater community of Barrow. She spearheaded a campaign that raised more than half a million dollars through people all around the country rallying around one common goal: changing the lives of young men through football. This is not just the story of how the Barrow Whalers became the first high school above the Arctic Circle to have a football program. This is the story of how we are sometimes called to the most unlikely of causes and to believe in something a little bit bigger: changing our own lives and the lives of others for the better in the most unexpected of ways.

The List Amy Siskind, 2018-03-27 The shocking first draft history of the Trump regime and its clear authoritarian impulses based on the viral Internet phenom The Weekly List. In the immediate aftermath of Donald Trump's election as president, Amy Siskind, a former Wall Street executive and the founder of The New Agenda, began compiling a list of actions taken by the Trump regime that pose a threat to our democratic norms. Under the headline "Experts in authoritarianism advise to keep a list of things subtly changing around you so you'll remember," Siskind's Weekly List began as a project she shared with friends but it soon went viral and now has more than half a million viewers every week. Compiled in one volume for the first time, The List is a first draft history and a comprehensive accounting of Donald Trump's first year. Beginning with Trump's acceptance of white supremacists the week after the election and concluding a year to the day later we watch as Trump and his regime chips away at the rights and protections of marginalized communities of women of us all via Twitter storms, unchecked executive action, and shifting rules and standards. The List chronicles not only the scandals that made headlines but just as important, the myriad smaller but still consequential unprecedented acts that otherwise fall through cracks. It is this granular detail that makes The List such a powerful and important book. For everyone hoping to resist Trump, The List is a must-have guide to what we as a country have lost in the
