Dear Financial Aid Officer,

I hope this message finds you well. My name is [Your Name], and I am currently a [Your Year] student at [School's Name] majoring in [Your Major]. I am writing to formally request a review of my financial aid package for the academic year [Insert Year] due to significant changes in my family's financial situation.

Recently, [briefly explain the change in your income, e.g., loss of job, reduction in work hours, health issues, etc.]. This unexpected change has greatly impacted my ability to finance my education and cover my living expenses.

I have attached the necessary documentation to verify the changes in income, including [list any documents you are attaching, e.g., pay stubs, unemployment benefits, tax returns, etc.]. I kindly ask for your consideration in revising my financial aid award based on this new information.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. I appreciate your time and assistance, and I look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

Making College Work Harry J. Holzer, Sandy Baum, 2017-08-15 Practical solutions for improving higher education opportunities for disadvantaged students Too many disadvantaged college students in America do not complete their coursework or receive any college credential while others earn degrees or certificates with little labor market value Large numbers of these students also struggle to pay for college and some incur debts that they have difficulty repaying The authors provide a new review of the causes of these problems and offer promising policy solutions The circumstances affecting disadvantaged students stem both from issues on the individual side such as weak academic preparation and financial pressures and from institutional failures Low income students disproportionately attend schools that are underfunded and have weak performance incentives contributing to unsatisfactory outcomes for many students Some solutions including better financial aid or academic supports target individual students Other solutions such as stronger linkages between coursework and the labor market and more structured paths through the curriculum are aimed at institutional reforms All students and particularly those from disadvantaged backgrounds also need better and varied pathways both to college and directly to the job market beginning in high school We can improve college outcomes but must also acknowledge that we must make hard choices and face difficult tradeoffs in the process While no single policy is guaranteed to greatly improve college and career outcomes implementing a number of evidence based policies and programs together has the potential to improve these outcomes substantially
