most of the characteristics the university could be found in other institutions of higher learning Citing the practices of four selected Chinese societies Yang opposes the existence of an impassable chasm between Chinese and Western ideas of a university and argues that it is possible to combine Chinese and Western ideas of a university Also this book is one of the first in English to theorize the Chinese idea of a university It links the historical events to the present in a context of an enormous impact of Western academic models and institutions from the beginning of modern universities in Chinese societies to the contemporary period The scholarship is of high quality based on a thorough critical reading of relevant literature in both English and Chinese as well as detailed empirical research carried out on the campuses of eight leading universities in the four Chinese societies under consideration Ruth Hayhoe professor University of Toronto Yang Rui has produced an academic masterwork China has arrived as a global power and the East Asian university has achieved or largely achieved the long project of catch up to the West The future begins now and question of the Chinese idea of a university should trigger much discussion Professor Yang favors the development of hybrid East West higher education in the Chinese civilizational zone noting that to an extent existing universities have taken this path already He develops these challenging issues with a depth of scholarship far exceeding the current journal papers in the topic area and a style of exposition that reads really well A book of lasting importance Highly recommended Simon Marginson professor University of Oxford joint editor in chief Higher Education
