Teaching Tips for Kids with Dyslexia, Grades PK - 5 Flora, 2012-09-01

Based on current research, Teaching Tips for Kids with Dyslexia provides teachers and parents with practical multisensory methods that will help children acquire the necessary phonological skills to become successful readers. Included are the early signs and symptoms of dyslexia, language intervention strategies, the importance of developing pre-phonemic and phonemic awareness, multisensory methods for identifying letters, reading sight words and spelling, as well as suggestions for classroom and material modifications, improving handwriting, building confidence, and new instructional concepts. This resource is a must for all elementary classroom teachers. Literacy Instruction for Students who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing Susan R. Easterbrooks PhD, Jennifer Beal-Alvarez MA, 2013-02-14

Most students who are deaf or hard of hearing (DHH) struggle with acquiring literacy skills, some as a direct result of their hearing loss, some because they are receiving insufficient modifications to access the general education curriculum, and some because they have additional learning challenges necessitating significant program modifications. Additionally, instructional practices for DHH students tend to be directed toward two sub-populations of DHH students: those with useable access to sound and those without. Literacy Instruction for Students who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing describes current evidence-based practices in teaching literacy for DHH students and provides practitioners and parents with a process for determining whether a practice is or is not evidence-based. Easterbrooks and Beal-Alvarez describe the importance of the assessment process in providing on-going progress monitoring to document students' literacy growth as a primary means to direct the course of instruction. They address the five key areas of instruction identified by the National Reading Panel: phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension. In this concise guidebook, the authors present the role of assessment in the literacy process, an overview of evidence-based practices, and, in the absence of such information, those practices supported by causal factors across the National Reading Panel's five areas of literacy. They also review the evidence base related to writing instruction, present case studies that reflect the diversity within the DHH population, and review the challenges yet to be addressed in deaf education.
