Learning Analytics in Higher Education Jaime

Lester,Carrie Klein,Huzefa Rangwala,Aditya Johri,2017-12-21 Learning analytics or educational big data tools are increasingly being deployed on campuses to improve student performance retention and completion especially when those metrics are tied to funding Providing personalized real time actionable feedback through mining and analysis of large data sets learning analytics can illuminate trends and predict future outcomes While promising there is limited and mixed empirical evidence related to its efficacy to improve student retention and completion Further learning analytics tools are used by a variety of people on campus and as such its use in practice may not align with institutional intent This monograph delves into the research literature and issues associated with learning analytics implementation adoption and use by individuals within higher education institutions With it readers will gain a greater understanding of the potential and challenges related to implementing adopting and integrating these systems on their campuses and within their classrooms and advising sessions This is the fifth issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication Campus Unions

Timothy Reese Cain, 2017-10-16 With roughly 25% of those teaching college classes belonging to a union higher education is one of the most heavily organized industries in the United States Substantial research based literature exists as scholars have been studying the topic for a half of a century Following an overview of its history and context this monograph synthesizes and analyzes the existing research on faculty and graduate student unionization It points to evolving understandings of faculty attitudes regarding collective bargaining and the findings on the relationships between unionization and compensation satisfaction procedural protections organizational effectiveness and related issues for tenure line faculty Additional chapters consider the more limited research on non tenure line faculty and graduate student instructors As such this monograph illuminates the accepted understandings contested arguments and the substantial gaps in understandings that remain This is the third issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication Faculty Members' Scholarly Learning Across Institutional Types Vicki L. Baker, Aimee LaPointe Terosky, Edna Martinez, 2017-08-22 Explore an important yet understudied concept faculty scholarly learning Taking a broad view this volume explains how scholarly learning is defined and conceptualized by scholars The authors synthesize the recent literature and organize the findings according to Boyer's four forms of scholarship discovery teaching engagement and integration They then offer a counternarrative to faculty scholarly learning and the ways in which it is enacted and supported Recommendations for developing supporting and evaluating faculty scholarly learning are also presented This volume answers What does scholarly learning look like at different types of institutions What contexts and or supports hinder or help faculty members scholarly learning at the different institutional types What challenges are noted in the extant literature on faculty work around further study or better understanding of faculty members scholarly learning across institutional types This is the second issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication Collegiality and the Collegium in an Era of Faculty Differentiation

Nathan F. Alleman, Cara Cliburn Allen, Don Haviland, 2017-12-11 Dramatic shifts in the demographic and labor diversity of American faculty have pressed institutions and the profession to clarify who the real faculty are from tenured to adjunct faculty. Efforts to equalize respect, resources, and treatment, although laudable, may be missing a vital aspect of the conversation: the role of collegiality and the collegium. Collegiality, the cultural, structural, and behavioral components and the collegium, or the shared identity, collegiality serves, are ancient concepts that raise timely questions for the faculty profession. What is it about the history of the professoriate in America that has rendered the collegium inadequate and yet so important in an age of differentiated labor? How might a renewed vision for collegiality bring clarity to the question of which faculty should be regarded as experts? How can we adapt and leverage these important concepts for a professoriate that is increasingly diverse by demographics and employment category in ways that result in a more inclusive and robust profession? Engaging in these questions through the extant literature will call readers into a compelling new conversation about the needs of and possibilities for the professoriate. This is the fourth issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey-Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report. Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences. Topics are identified by a national survey. Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication. Mentoring Undergraduate Students Gloria Crisp, Vicki L. Baker, Kimberly A. Griffin, Laura Gail Lunsford, Meghan J. Pifer, 2017-01-25 Take a critical look at the theory and recent empirical research specific to mentoring undergraduate students. This monograph explains how mentoring has been defined and conceptualized by scholars to date. Considers how recent mentoring scholarship has begun to distinguish mentoring from other developmental relationships. Synthesizes recent empirical findings. Describes prevalent types of formalized programs under which mentoring relationships are situated and reviews existing and emerging theoretical frameworks. This monograph also identifies empirical and theoretical questions and presents research to better understand the role of mentoring in promoting social justice and equity. Presenting recommendations for developing, implementing, and evaluating formal mentoring programs, it concludes with an integrated conceptual framework to explain best practice conditions and characteristics for these programs. This is the first issue of the 43rd volume of the Jossey-Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report. Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences. Topics are identified by a national survey. Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication. Homelessness and Housing Insecurity in Higher Education Ronald E. Hallett, Rashida Crutchfield, 2018-01-24 Both colleges and policymakers recognize the importance of supporting students experiencing homelessness in higher education. The challenges involve both addressing issues of college access as well as developing strategies to support retention and degree completion once enrolled. This volume explores how homelessness intersects most social issues that marginalize individuals and negatively influence postsecondary completion including poverty foster care and LGBTQ discrimination As becomes evident students experiencing homelessness should be considered in conversations about equity and access For these students completing some form of degree or certification beyond high school is a vital step in achieving future stability Topics covered include how residential experiences influence educational engagement and retention an overview of research related to housing insecurity in higher education federal and state policies related to homelessness in higher education a trauma informed care approach to this issue an approach to understanding and studying housing insecurity among students ideas that will be necessary for policy and program development

Whiteness in Higher Education: The Invisible Missing Link in Diversity and Racial Analyses: ASHE Higher Education Report, Volume 42, Number 6 Nolan L. Cabrera, Jeremy D. Franklin, Jesse S. Watson, 2017-01-10 When issues of diversity and race arise in higher education scholarship and practice the focus is generally on Students of Color That being said if there are People of Color being marginalized on college campuses there is a structural mechanism facilitating the marginalization This monograph explores the relevance of Whiteness to the field of Higher Education While Whiteness as a racial discourse is continually changing and defies classification it is both real in terms of its impacts on the campus racial dynamics Highlighting many of the contours of Whiteness in higher education this volume explores the influence of Whiteness on interpersonal interactions campus climate culture ecology policy and scholarship Additionally it explores what can be done both individually and institutionally to address the problem of Whiteness in higher education Ultimately this monograph is offered from the perspective that racial issues concern everyone and this engages the possibility of both People of Color destabilizing Whiteness and White people becoming racial justice allies within the context of higher education institutions This is the sixth issue of the 42nd volume of the Jossey Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication
