Reading for Life Lyn Stone, 2018-12-07 Why is it that more people can't read and write Why are there still so many vastly different methods of teaching literacy Why do people still argue about it Reading for Life examines these three questions addressing the less evidence supported ideas about teaching reading and writing which are still alive and well in schools all over the world This accessible guide bridges the gap between research and practice translating academic findings into practical suggestions and ready to use techniques Written in an approachable style and with informative graphics vignettes and interviews woven throughout this book covers the components of literacy including phonics vocabulary and fluency the history of approaches to literacy teaching and an overview of the key figures government level inquiries into the provision of reading and writing teaching the mindset which leads to acceptance of poor practice the essential components of an effective literacy program with practical advice on selecting resources to get the job done well Reading for Life helps educational practitioners make informed decisions about which teaching methods to reject and select and empowers parents to ask the right questions of professionals and policy makers This book is a timely exploration of poor teaching methods and is an innovative fresh assessment of how high quality literacy teaching can be provided for all

A Scoping Study Into Perceptions of Phonological Pedagogy in Rural Ghana Christopher John Counihan, 2010-01-27 Ghana's education system is in a state of transition Since the introduction of the Free and Compulsory Universal Basic Education FCUBE initiative in 1995 the country has struggled to meet with the demands of providing accessible schooling for children at any level Moreover with the underdevelopment of early years and primary provision more children face slipping through the net The battle to get children into schools and keep them there is proving to be problematic across the country As a result children are losing out on vital core learning experiences particularly literacy English is the medium of instruction in Ghana and is taught in schools from the primary level However with a blend of English and mother tongue instruction children are finding it significantly harder to grasp the basic skills As a result support from NGOs and teaching professionals have sought to find practical solutions through vis vis and reciprocal partnerships

Responsive Guided Reading in Grades K-5 Jennifer Berne, Sophie C. Degener, 2010-04-22 Guided reading is a staple of elementary literacy instruction yet planning and conducting reading groups can be time consuming and challenging This hands on book presents an innovative approach to guided reading that is manageable even for teachers who are new to small group differentiated reading instruction Numerous classroom examples illustrate how to organize groups and select suitably challenging materials structure group sessions provide scaffolding and cues while listening to students read and balance small group with whole class instruction Special features include scheduling aids and lists of common cues for beginning and older readers as well as suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter

Expanding Literacies Mary Sue Garay, Stephen A. Bernhardt, 1998-01-01 Examines the escalating literacy demands of the new workplace and makes suggestions for reshaping traditional English classes to better equip students with new skills to meet these needs

Handbook of Early Literacy Research Susan B. Neuman, David K. Dickinson, 2011-10-10 The field of early literacy has seen significant recent advances in theory research and practice These volumes bring together leading authorities to report on current findings integrate insights from different disciplinary perspectives and explore ways to provide children with the strongest possible literacy foundations in the first 6 years of life The Handbook first addresses broad questions about the nature of emergent literacy summarizing current knowledge on cognitive pathways biological underpinnings and the importance of cultural contexts Chapters in subsequent sections examine various strands of knowledge and skills that emerge as children become literate as well as the role played by experiences with peers and families Particular attention is devoted to the challenges involved in making schools work for all children including members of linguistic and ethnic minority groups and children living in poverty Finally approaches to instruction assessment and early intervention are described and up to date research on their effectiveness is presented
