Diachronic Studies in Romance Linguistics Mario Saltarelli, Dieter Wanner, 2010-10-06. No detailed description available for Diachronic Studies in Romance Linguistics. Vowel Prosthesis in Romance Rodney Sampson, 2009-10-29. This book presents for the first time an in-depth historical account of vowel prosthesis in the Romance languages. Vowel prosthesis is a change which involves the appearance of a non-etymological vowel at the beginning of a word; a familiar example is the initial e which appears in the development of Latin sperare to Spanish esperar and French espérer to hope. Despite its widespread incidence in the Romance languages it has remained poorly studied. In his wide-ranging comparative coverage Professor Sampson identifies three main categories of vowel prosthesis that have occurred and explores in detail their historical trajectory and the relationship between them. The presentation draws freely throughout on the rich philological materials available from Romance and brings to light various unexpected changes in the productive use of prosthesis through time. For example in French and Italian which is Tuscan based one category of prosthesis became well established in the early Middle Ages only to lose productivity and subsequently become moribund. With its extensive use of empirical data and findings from theoretical linguistics the book offers a thorough and revealing account of a fascinating chapter in the phonological history of Romance. Segmental and prosodic issues in Romance phonology Pilar Prieto, Joan Mascaró, Maria-Josep Solé, 2007-04-06. This volume is a collection of cutting-edge research papers written by well-known researchers in the field of Romance phonetics and phonology. An important goal of this book is to bridge the gap between traditional Romance linguistics with its long and rich tradition in data collection, cross-language comparison and phonetic variation and laboratory phonology work. The book is organized around three main themes: segmental processes, prosody and the acquisition of segments and prosody. The various articles provide new empirical data on production, perception, sound change, first and second language learning, rhythm and intonation, presenting a state-of-the-art overview of research in laboratory phonology centred on Romance languages. The Romance data are used to test the predictions of a number of theoretical frameworks such as gestural phonology, exemplar models, generative phonology and optimality theory. The book will constitute a useful companion volume for phoneticians, phonologists and researchers investigating sound structure in Romance languages and will serve to generate further interest in laboratory phonology. Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory 2009 Janine Berns, Haike Jacobs, Tobias Scheer, 2011-11-30 The annual Going Romance conference has developed into the major European discussion forum for theoretically relevant research on Romance languages where current ideas about language in general and about Romance languages in particular are tested The twenty third Going Romance conference was a very special one for the first time it was not hosted by one of the Dutch universities but was co organized by the Radboud University Nijmegen and the Universit de Nice Sophia Antipolis and held in France at the Maison du S minaire in Nice from 3-5 December 2009 The present volume contains a broad range of peer reviewed articles dealing with syntax phonology morphology semantics and acquisition of the Romance languages as well as selected papers from the special workshop dealing with linguistic change in relation to linguistic theory

Italic and Romance Herbert J. Izzo, 1980-01-01 The papers in this volume deal with the languages of ancient Italy and the Romance dialects that grew from them The arrangement of papers in the volume is topical starting with ancient Italy and moving upward in time and outward in space through general Romance to Italian French and Provençal Spanish Romanian and Sardinian

Current Issues in Romance Languages Teresa Satterfield, Christina Tortora, Diana Cresti, 2002 This book presents an enlightening collection of papers contributing to theoretical discussions across many topics within the study of Romance Languages and Linguistics The work originates from the 29th Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages held in 1999 at the University of Michigan Ann Arbor although only a small subpart of the proceedings papers are included in this volume The selected papers have been reworked for the current publication Coarticulation and Sound Change in Romance Daniel Recasens, 2014-04-15 This volume should be of great interest to phoneticians phonologists and both historical and cognitive linguists Using data from the Romance languages for the most part the book explores the phonetic motivation of several sound changes e g glide insertions and elisions vowel and consonant insertions elisions assimilations and dissimilations Within the framework of the DAC degree of articulatory constraint model of coarticulation it clearly demonstrates that the typology and direction of these sound changes may very largely be accounted for by the coarticulatory effects occurring between adjacent or neighbouring phonetic segments and by the degrees of articulatory constraint imposed by speakers on the production of vowels and consonants The phonetically based explanations presented here are formulated on the basis of coarticulation data from speech production and perception research carried out during the last fifty years and are complemented with data on the co occurrence of phonetic segments in lexical forms of the languages being considered Attention is also paid to the role that positional and prosodic factors play in sound change implementation as well as to the cognitive and peripheral strategies involved in segmental replacements elisions and insertions Studies in Romance Linguistics Carl Kirschner, Janet Ann DeCesaris, 1989-01-01 The papers collected in this volume reflect the numerous interests in the field of Romance languages and Romance linguistics today A far ranging amount of Romance data are presented French Italian and Spanish dialect data are crucial to several authors arguments Rumanian is the focus of two papers and many of the papers included discuss overall Romance developments It is noteworthy that formal approaches to syntax are here regularly applied to historical data three papers specifically deal with pro drop phenomena in Old French Of the papers on phonology syllabification and linking processes receive much attention

Proto-Romance and Sicilian Michael Lee Mazzola, 2020-10-26 No detailed description available for Proto Romance and Sicilian Comparative and Diachronic Perspectives on Romance Syntax Gabriela Pană Dindelegan, Irina Nicula, 2018-04-18 The volume brings together fifteen papers focusing on the morphosyntax of different Romance varieties It is based on papers presented at the workshop bearing the same title held at the University of Bucharest in November 2015 and is dedicated to Professor Martin Maiden of the University of Oxford in honour of his 60th birthday The contributions tackle different theoretical issues concerning current linguistic theory relevant both for comparative and diachronic approaches including parameters features and their hierarchical organization word order changes the level of verb movement in different varieties inflected infinitives clitic placement and clitic doubling ethical datives and personal subject pronouns among others As such the volume represents diverse theoretical approaches to addressing a number of key morphological and syntactic issues in the morphosyntactic development of the Romance languages drawing on modern research methods and current linguistic theory with a clear preference for parametric syntax The most significant areas of grammar are well represented here The volume will appeal to advanced graduate and postgraduate students in diachronic linguistics theoretical linguistics and Romance linguistics as well as researchers in the fields of historical and typological linguistics morphosyntactic theory and
