latest trends in literacy education conceptual understanding of texts familiarity with electronic content and the ability to create meaning from visual imagery and media messages Educators and academicians call these skills multiple literacies shorthand for the kind of literacy skills and abilities needed in an age of information overload media hype and Internet connectedness With its 400 A Z entries researched by experts and written in accessible prose Literacy in America is the only reference tool students teachers and parents will need to understand what it means to be and become literate in 21st century America

The Hidden Story Geraldine E. Rodgers, 2000-01-01 Two different and opposite kinds of readers are developed at the very beginning stages of reading instruction as the result of different and opposite kinds of teaching One kind of reader is taught to read by the sound of print and reads automatically and with great accuracy The other kind of reader is taught to read by the meaning of print as Chinese characters are read and not only reads inaccurately but is actually encouraged to do so by so called psycholinguistic guessing The Hidden Story explains why the teaching of psycholinguistic guessing to beginning readers although it manifestly results in a life long disability has been the experts instructional preference ever since 1870 although the term itself is a relatively recent invention

Academic Assessment and Intervention Steven Little, Angeleque Akin-Little, 2014-01-21 Serving students with academic deficiencies necessitates communication and collaboration among professionals from several disciplines Academic Assessment and Intervention brings together divergent approaches in order to demonstrate that scientific evidence rather than biases or previous practice must determine assessment practices that are selected and used for particular purposes Similar to a handbook in its comprehensive topical coverage this edited collection provides a contextual foundation for academic assessment and intervention describes both norm referenced and curriculum based assessment measurement in detail considers the implications of both of these assessments on ethnically diverse populations provides a clear link between assessment evidence based interventions and the RTI model and considers other important topics related to this area such as teacher behavior Intended primarily for graduate level courses in education school psychology or child clinical psychology it will also be of interest to practicing professionals in these fields
