Late Night with Trump Stephen J. Farnsworth, S. Robert Lichter, 2019-11-15 Political humor has been a staple of late night television for decades The Trump White House however has received significantly greater attention than that of past presidents such as Barack Obama George W Bush and even Bill Clinton In response to Trump s strident politics late night comics including Stephen Colbert Jimmy Kimmel Trevor Noah and Jimmy Fallon have sounded key policy notes further blurring the boundary between news and satire Weekly humorists including John Oliver and Samantha Bee extend the critique with in depth probing of key issues while Saturday Night Live continues to tap the progression from outrage to outrageousness Using unique content analysis techniques and qualitative discussions of political humor Farnsworth and Lichter show how late night political humor and these seven programs in particular have responded to the Trump presidency Employing a dataset of more than 100 000 late night jokes going back decades these noted media scholars discuss how the treatment of Trump differs from previous presidents and how the Trump era is likely to shape the future of political humor The authors also employ public opinion survey data to consider the growing role these late night programs play in framing public opinion and priorities This book will interest scholars the curious public and students of politics communications and the media and contemporary American culture

Autoethnography in the 21st Century, Volume II Lisa Ortiz-Vilarelle, 2024-09-13 Autoethnography in the 21st Century offers interpretive analytic interactive performative experiential and embodied forms of autoethnography from around the globe Volume II Genealogy Memory Media Witness examines hybrid ethnographic life writing genres including genealogical memoir cultural autotheory and family narrative Contributors actively blur the distinction between emic and etic classifications of ethnographic experience to position themselves as both the active bearers of and critical witnesses of culture to produce and analyze expressive rather than data driven depictions of selfhood and culture that emerge in the spaces between traditionally self effacing scientific methods and literary narrative It features autobiographical and anthropological poetics autotheory and fieldwork grounded in Trinidad Jordan Mexico Italy Australia Canada Scotland Egypt Turkey and the United States The book will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of critical autoethnography communication cultural and gender studies and other related disciplines The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Life Writing

Ground Combat Ben Connable, 2025 Ground Combat reveals the gritty details of land warfare at the tactical level and challenges the overly subjective and often inaccurate American approach to characterizing war Ben Connable's motivation for writing the book is to replace overly subjective analyses with an evidence based approach to examining war From analyzing a set of over 400 global ground combat cases Connable shows there has been a modest and evolutionary shift in the characteristics of ground combat from World War II through the early 2020s This evidence of gradual change repudiates the popular but often hyperbolic arguments about military technical revolutions and that there is a singular character of war in the modern era Connable identifies past and current weaknesses in military design and strategy examines common characteristics in modern ground combat from the data and reframes the debate over the historical and prospective impact of emerging technologies on war Ground Combat sets an evidentiary baseline and a new detail oriented standard for conflict research and policymaking

The 2020 Presidential Campaign Robert E. Denton Jr., 2021-06-10 As he has done for each presidential campaign since 1992 Robert E Denton Jr gathers a diverse collection of communications scholars to analyze specific areas of the most recent campaign season Topics include early campaign rhetoric the nomination process and conventions candidate strategies presidential debates political advertising the use of new media and coverage of the campaigns This volume looks at the 2020 presidential campaign from three perspectives The first section addresses the major political campaign communication areas including pre primary candidate surfacing the conventions the debates political advertising social media and news coverage of the campaign The second section includes two unique perspectives on political branding and the politics of food in the 2020 campaign The final section of the volume provides the broad overviews of campaign spending and finance as well as the national perspective of explaining the vote Thus the chapters cluster around the themes of campaign communication studies of unique or special topics relevant to the campaigns and the overall election

Epistemic Justice and Creative Agency Sarah Colvin, Stephanie Galasso, 2022-09-12 Foundational theories of epistemic justice such as Miranda Fricker's have cited literary narratives to support their case But why have those narratives in particular provided the resource that was needed And is cultural production always supportive of epistemic justice This essay collection written by experts in literary philosophical and cultural studies working in conversation with each other across a range of global contexts expands the emerging field of epistemic injustice studies The essays analyze the complex relationship between narrative aesthetics and epistemic in justice referencing texts film and other forms of cultural production The authors present without seeking to synthesize perspectives on how justice and injustice are narratively and aesthetically produced This volume by no means wants to say the last word on epistemic justice and creative agency The intention is to open out a productive new field of study at a time when understanding the workings of injustice and possibilities for justice seems an ever more urgent project

Anthem of Misogyny Ibtissam Bouachrine, 2022-10-03 Anthem of Misogyny The War on Women in North Africa and the Middle East argues that misogyny which operates through an interconnected network of ideologies institutions beliefs aesthetics and cultural trends is too complex and too deep rooted to eradicate with superficial changes Like a national anthem misogyny in North Africa and the Middle East has acquired a sacred status It is accepted uncritically and woven effortlessly into daily practices creating a community of men of different ages educational levels and socioeconomic backgrounds who are united in their sense of entitlement to evaluate scrutinize deter question and expose women For women it is as if they are in a state of perpetual war forever on the verge of being accused of deviating from the norms and being punished These norms however are neither clear nor predictable This study of misogyny is written against a dominant orthodoxy in Western feminism Critics are accused of gendered orientalism savior complexes and even Islamophobia if they dare to bring up misogyny and gender based violence in North Africa and the Middle East in contexts other than calling it a Western created issue Rather than exaggerate Western agency this book is invested in making Muslim agency visible There are narratives of violence and injustice that produce discomfort anger and even despair These stories deserve to be told and those behind the injustices are entitled to an unfiltered portrayal because the non West too is deserving of unapologetic feminist critique

Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia Elira Turdubaeva, Evangelia Papoutsaki, 2023-02-16 Central Asian post independence media and communication industries professional practices education persisting and evolving values and traditions remain critically understudied with a notable scarcity of research and scholarly publications on the complex and increasingly changing communicative ecology landscape of this region Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia An Anthology of Emerging and Contemporary Issues addresses this gap in literature by exploring analyzing and shedding light to the field practice research and critical inquiry of media and mass communication in four countries in Central Asia Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan This book includes local authors as well as new and emerging researchers from this region to contextualize the issues explored and provide a supportive dialogue between different points of view
