Love and War in Troy: Fall of a City Antony Augoustakis, Monica S. Cyrino, 2022-01-13 This is the first volume of essays published on the television series Troy Fall of a City BBC One and Netflix 2018 Covering a wide range of engaging topics such as gender race and politics international scholars in the fields of classics history and film studies discuss how the story of Troy has been recreated on screen to suit the expectations of modern audiences The series is commended for the thought provoking way it handles important issues arising from the Trojan War narrative that continue to impact our society today. With discussions centered on epic narrative cast and character as well as tragic resonances, the contributors tackle gender roles by exploring the innovative ways in which mythological female figures such as Helen, Aphrodite, and the Amazons are depicted in the series. An examination is also made into the concept of the hero and how the series challenges conventional representations of masculinity. We encounter a significant investigation of race focusing on the controversial casting of Achilles, Patroclus, Zeus, and other series characters with Black actors. Several essays deal with the moral and ethical complexities surrounding warfare, power, and politics. The significance of costume and production design are also explored throughout the volume.

Teaching Young Adult Literature Today Judith A. Hayn, Jeffrey S. Kaplan, Karina R. Clemmons, 2016-11-02

Teaching Young Adult Literature Today introduces the reader to what is current and relevant in the plethora of good books available for adolescents. More importantly, literary experts illustrate how teachers everywhere can help their students become lifelong readers by simply introducing them to great reads, smart, insightful, and engaging books that are specifically written for adolescents. Hayn, Kaplan, and their contributors address a wide range of topics: how to avoid common obstacles to using YAL; selecting quality YAL for classrooms while balancing these with curriculum requirements; engaging disenfranchised readers; pairing YAL with technology as an innovative way to teach curriculum standards across all content areas. Contributors also discuss more theoretical subjects such as the absence of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and questioning LGBTQ young adult literature in secondary classrooms and contemporary YAL that responds to the changing expectations of digital generation readers who want to blur the boundaries between page and screen. This book has been updated to reflect the wealth of new YA literature that has been published since the first edition appeared in March 2012 and to reflect new trends in technology that influences how adolescents are reading and responding to literature.

The Fictional Female Presidency in Film, Television, and Literature Kathleen W. Taylor Kollman, 2025-11-13

This book examines the ways in which popular culture has entertained the notion of a female U.S. presidency through portrayals in film, television, and literature dating back to the 1930s. To date, no woman has served as Commander in Chief in the White House. This lack of precedent, however, has not deterred the continued exploration of this idea in U.S. popular culture for decades. In this book, Kathleen W. Taylor Kollman analyzes fictionalized portrayals of female U.S. Presidents across a variety of media spanning both genre and time period to demonstrate how the perceptions of audiences and content creators have shifted when considering the idea of a woman's ability to run the United States. She then contextualizes each example by positioning it alongside real-life women in politics to examine the accuracy of existing portrayals when compared to the media framing of aspiring political candidates. By analyzing works diverse in genre, including science fiction, dystopias, slapstick comedies, political dramas, satire, and romance novels, Kollman also explores the ways in which genre can also play a critical factor in the framing of these women with regard to both subject matter and approach. Scholars interested in parasocial relationships
