In a world that commodifies feminism, is adapting romance novels for small and big screen projects, and the Romance Writers Association is evolving to a more inclusive representative group, it is imperative for researchers to reevaluate the cultural assumptions and gender norming work happening in the romance genre. It is time to question the cultural capital of traditional archetypes, explore the experience of romance readers, and question how romance and cultural studies researchers create quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods research. This work centers around a data set collected with a revised version of Janice Radway's Reading the Romance survey that will be shared with all the authors of this anthology. By having access to this pool, authors will have the opportunity to explore different elements of reader experience and cultural norms in romance fiction and potentially reflect on changes since Janice Radway's seminal work. The norms and negotiations readers experience while consuming romance is especially interesting as romancelandia becomes a more mainstream part of popular culture with the popularity of Bridgerton and romance series like Ice Planet Barbarians exploding on BookTok. No other book in romance or popular culture studies identifies a data set as the connecting element, and to do so creates an exciting opportunity to create a more inclusive study of popular romance, offer truly interdisciplinary research on the question of how readers read romance, and generate diverse areas of future scholarship. This edited volume explores multiple issues in romance fiction based on survey data from real romance readers. An updated version of Janice Radway's influential survey looking at romance readers in the early 1980s, this time scholars explore romance readers' habits and attitudes in the twenty-first century. Each contributor in this volume uses the same survey data to make unique statements about gender, intersectionality, popular fiction, and popular culture. By using a common data set but approaching it from different perspectives, this unique volume is able to apply multiple methodologies to the same subject.

Marked by the Brooding Mountain Man: A Short and Steamy Instalove Romance Hazel J. North, I promised to protect her brother. She makes me want to protect her entire world. Silas' life is simple and steady until Beth walks into the lumber yard. She's gorgeous, fierce, and ready to tear down anyone who might hurt her brother. Jesse, the rookie I've been assigned to mentor, Beth and Jesse are starting over in Timber Peak Valley after losing their parents, and the last thing she needs is some gruff lumberjack making promises he might not be able to keep. But the second I look at her, I see forever. And I'll be damned if I let anything happen to her or the family she's got left. The problem is Beth's walls are higher than the mountains surrounding our town. Getting through them won't be easy, but she's worth every bit of effort it's going to take. Because she's mine. She just doesn't know it yet. Marked by the Brooding Mountain Man is a short and steamy instalove romance set in the small mountain town of Timber Peak Valley and featuring a protective lumberjack. No cheating and no cliffhangers, just a guaranteed and hot HEA with a mountain man who'll do anything for the woman he loves. This one is meant to be read in one
