Netflix In The Us Install:

Transatlantic Television Drama Matt Hills, Michele Hilmes, Roberta E. Pearson, 2019 In 2014 the UK science fiction television series Black Mirror was released on Netflix worldwide quickly becoming a hit with US audiences Like other beloved British imports this series piqued Americans interest with hints of dark comedy clever plotlines and six episode seasons that left audiences frantic for more In Transatlantic Television Drama volume editors Michele Hilmes Matt Hills and Roberta Pearson team up with leading scholars in TV studies and transnational television to look at how serial dramas like Black Mirror captivate US audiences and what this reveals about the ways Americans and Brits relate to each other on and off the screen Focusing on production strategies performance styles and audience reception chapters delve into some of the most widely discussed programs on the transatlantic circuit from ongoing series like Game of Thrones Downton Abbey Orphan Black and Sherlock to those with long histories of transnational circulation like Masterpiece and Doctor Who to others whose transnational success speaks to the process of exchange adaptation and cooperation such as Rome Parade s End Broadchurch and Gracepoint The book s first section investigates the platforms that support British American exchange from distribution partnerships and satellite providers to streaming services The second section concentrates on the shift in meaning across cultural contexts such as invocations of heritage genre shifts in adaptation performance styles and in the case of Episodes actual dramatized depiction of the process of transatlantic television production In section three attention turns to contexts of audience reception ranging from fan conventions and fiction to television criticism the effects of national branding on audiences and the role of social media in de or re contextualizing fans response to transnational programs

Latin American Film Industries Tamara L. Falicov, 2019-06-27 Film production in Latin America is as old as cinema itself but local film industries have always been in a triangulated relationship with Hollywood and European cinema This book situates Latin American film industries within the global circulation of film production exhibition and distribution charting the changes that the industries have undergone from the sound era to the present day Focusing in particular on Argentina Brazil and Mexico Tamara Falicov examines commonalities among Latin American film industries such as the challenges of procuring funding competition from Hollywood state funding battles and the fickle nature of audiences as well as censorship issues competition from television and the transnational nature of Latin American film She addresses production exhibition and distribution contexts and financing and co production with Europe and the United States as well as the role of film festivals in funding and circulating films both within and outside of Latin America Newer trends such as the revival of protectionist measures like the screen quota are framed in contrast to the U S s push for trade policy liberalization and issues of universal concern such as film piracy and new technologies and the role of television in helping and hindering Latin American cinema
