

Reading Comprehension

Read the short passage and answer the questions.

The Dog and the Shadow

It happened that a Dog had got a piece of meat and was carrying it home in his mouth to eat it in peace. Now on his way home, he had to cross a plank lying across a running brook. As he crossed, he looked down and saw his own shadow reflected in the water beneath. Thinking it was another dog with another piece of meat, he made up his mind to have that also. So he made a snap at the shadow in the water, but as he opened his mouth the piece of meat fell out, dropped into the water and was never seen more.

1. What animal was crossing a board?

2. What did the dog have in his mouth?

3. What did the dog see in the running brook?

4. What is the moral of the story?

Current Trends in the Development and Teaching of the four Language Skills builds connections from theory in the four language skills to instructional practices It comprises twenty one chapters that are grouped in five sections The first section includes an introductory chapter which presents a communicative competence framework developed by the editors in order to highlight the key role the four skills play in language learning and teaching The next four sections each represent a language skill Section II is devoted to listening Section III to speaking Section IV to reading and Section V to writing In order to provide an extensive treatment of each of the four skills each section starts with a theoretical chapter which briefly illustrates advances in the understanding of how each skill is likely to be learned and taught followed by four didactically oriented chapters authored by leading international specialists These pedagogical chapters deal specifically with four key topics 1 areas of research that influence the teaching of a particular skill 2 an overview of strategies or techniques necessary for developing a particular skill 3 an approach to the academic orientation of a particular skill and 4 unique aspects of teaching each skill Moreover all chapters incorporate two common sections pre reading questions at the beginning of the chapter in order to stimulate readers interest in its content and a section entitled suggested activities at the end of the chapter in order to allow readers put the ideas and concepts presented into practice The accessible style and practical focus of the volume make it an ideal tool for teachers teacher trainers and teacher trainees who are involved in teaching the four language skills in a second or foreign language context Reading Research at Work Katherine A. Dougherty Stahl,Michael C. McKenna,2006-04-20 This book presents state of the science research on the components of successful literacy learning and how to target them in contemporary classrooms The volume builds on and extends the work of Steven Stahl whose pioneering contributions encompassed the key areas of phonemic awareness phonics vocabulary fluency comprehension and assessment Ten classic papers by Stahl are accompanied by 16 new chapters by other leading experts who highlight Stahl s theoretical methodological and instructional innovations describe how knowledge about each domain continues to evolve and discuss implications for helping all children become better readers Handbook of Research on Literacy and Diversity Lesley Mandel Morrow,Robert Rueda,Diane Lapp,2010-11-03 This is the first research handbook to address all dimensions of diversity that have an impact on literacy achievement Leading experts examine how teaching and learning intersect with cultural and language differences and socioeconomic disparities in today's increasingly diverse schools and communities. The volume weaves compelling research findings together with theory, policy considerations and discussions of exemplary instructional practices. It offers fresh perspectives on such topics as family literacy, multiliteracies drawing on cultural resources in the classroom, factors that promote success in high poverty schools, equity issues and ways to teach specific literacy skills. The concluding section provides crucial recommendations for teacher preparation and professional development.

Fluency and Reading Comprehension in Typical Readers and Dyslexics Readers Simone A.

Capellini, Giseli D. Germano, 2018-02-22 Reading involves decoding and comprehension components and to become efficient it requires a large number of cognitive and linguistic processes. Among those, the phonological awareness, the alphabetic principle, the decoding, the fluency, the lexical development and the text comprehension development. The reading comprehension is strongly related with the development of vocabulary, oral language, linguistic skills, memory skills and ability to make inferences and the world experiences of each individual. These processes become important only when the professional needs to deal with students presenting difficulties in learning how to read. The difficulty using the knowledge of conversion rules between grapheme and phoneme to the word reading construction characterizes the dyslexia, which is a specific learning disorder with a neurological source. These difficulties presented by students with dyslexia interfere in their learning process, impairing the learning development. Knowing and following the reading development and its processes as well as obtaining the punctuation of fluency abilities and students comprehension allow us to understand what happens when the student presents difficulties to read. This could help in the identification of learning disabilities and in the development of intervention programs.

Current Directions in Dyslexia Research Dirk J. Bakker, Kees P. van den Bos, David L.

Share, Linda S. Siegel, 2020-12-18 This book covers research on biopsychological aspects of dyslexia, reflects on psycholinguistic aspects of dyslexia, offers reflections on dyslexia treatment research in general. It points out that in some dyslexics it is not sufficient to treat word identification difficulties alone.
