particularly the culture and socio political climate This volume critically examines the current theories and practices of public archaeology through relevant case studies from different regions throughout the world including Japan China South Korea New Caledonia South Africa Senegal Jordan Italy Peru Canada the United Kingdom the United States and Australia These case studies are examined from a wide variety of theoretical contexts to provide a thorough and comprehensive guide to the state of public archaeology today as well as implications for its future As the theory and practice of public archaeology continues to change and grow archaeology's relationship with the broader community needs to be critically and openly examined The contributions in this wide ranging work are a key source of information for anyone practicing or studying archaeology in a public context New Perspectives on Microsoft Project 2002 Rachel Biheller Bunin, Lisa L.

Friedrichsen, Rachel Bunin, Kathy Schwalbe, 2003 The New Perspectives series combines innovative text with technology for teaching computer concepts operating systems the Internet e commerce and microcomputer applications Critical thinking and problem solving is encouraged with the use of realistic cases and solid end of tutorial exercises New Perspectives advanced topics including customizing Project using macros and importing and exporting information Demonstrates how to build tasks use views modify the appearance of a project and resolve scheduling and resource problems With Project 2010 Bible by your side you ll learn to confidently and skillfully put Microsoft Project 2010 to work for you New Perspectives on Microsoft Project 2010 + Microsoft Project 2010 60 Day Trial Or Systems Analysis and Design Bunin,2011-06-01 Food and Nutrition Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne,Jonathan Crush,Cameron McCordic,2017-12-22 Urban population growth is extremely rapid across Africa and this book places urban food and nutrition security firmly on the development and policy agenda It shows that current efforts to address food poverty in Africa that focus entirely on small scale farmers to the exclusion of broader socio economic and infrastructural approaches are misplaced and will remain largely ineffective in ameliorating food and nutrition insecurity for the majority of Africans Using original data from the African Food Security Urban Network s AFSUN extensive database it is demonstrated that the primary food security challenge for urban households is access to food Already linked into global food systems and value chains Africa s supply of food is not necessarily in jeopardy Rather the widespread poverty and informal urban fabric that characterizes Africa s emerging cities impinge directly on households capacity to access food that is readily available Through the analysis of empirical data collected from 6 500 households in eleven cities in nine countries in Southern Africa the authors identify the complexity of factors and dynamics that create the circumstances of widespread food and nutrition insecurity under which urban citizens live They also provide useful policy approaches to address these conditions that currently thwart the latent development potential of Africa s expanding urban population Opening Up Education Toru Iiyoshi,M.S. Vijay Kumar,2010-09-24 Experts discuss the potential for open education tools resources and knowledge to transform the economics and ecology of education Given the abundance of open education initiatives that aim to make educational assets freely available online the time seems ripe to explore the potential of open education to transform the economics and ecology of education Despite the diversity of tools and resources already available from well packaged course materials to simple games for students self learners faculty and educational institutions we have yet to take full advantage of shared knowledge about how these are being used what local innovations are emerging and how to learn from and build on the experiences of others Opening Up Education argues that we must develop not only the technical capability but also the intellectual capacity for transforming tacit pedagogical knowledge into commonly usable and visible knowledge by providing incentives for faculty to use and contribute to open education goods and by looking beyond institutional boundaries to connect a variety of settings and open source entrepreneurs These essays by leaders in open education describe successes challenges and opportunities they have found in a range of open education initiatives They approach from both macro and micro perspectives the central question of how open education tools resources and knowledge can improve the quality of education The contributors from leading foundations academic institutions associations and projects discuss the strategic underpinnings of their efforts first in terms of technology then content and finally knowledge They also address the impact of their projects and how close they come to achieving a vision of sustainable transformative educational opportunities that amounts to much more than pervasive technology Through the support of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching an electronic version of this book is openly available under a Creative Commons license at The MIT Press Web site <http://mitpress.mit.edu>
