Translation and Processing of Light by the Non-Image Forming Visual System - Context, Mechanisms and Applications Fabian-Xosé

Fernandez, Shadab Rahman, Manuel Spitschan, 2021-10-18 The British Journal of Photography, 1990 Worms and Light Vivian Brooks, AI, 2025-02-27 Worms and Light explores the fascinating world of non visual photoreception in nematodes or roundworms revealing how these simple organisms detect light without eyes. This capability influences their behavior, survival and evolutionary adaptation. Nematodes use photosensitivity to avoid harmful light, locate food and synchronize with daily or seasonal light cycles. Consider that Darwin's work on earthworm behavior laid a foundation for understanding how organisms respond to stimuli. The book highlights the cellular and molecular mechanisms of light detection, the ecological roles of photosensitivity and its evolutionary origins. By integrating molecular, ecological and evolutionary perspectives, Worms and Light offers a unique understanding of sensory systems. The book progresses from key concepts and molecular components to ecological contexts and evolutionary history supported by genetic, molecular, behavioral and ecological studies.

Mutiny and the Mainstream Judy Seigel, 1992 Camera, 1952 Chicano and Chicana Art Jennifer A. González, C. Ondine Chavoya, Chon Noriega, Terezita Romo, 2019-01-15 This anthology provides an overview of the history and theory of Chicano art from the 1960s to the present, emphasizing the debates and vocabularies that have played key roles in its conceptualization. In Chicano and Chicana Art which includes many of Chicano art's landmark and foundational texts and manifestos, artists, curators and cultural critics trace the development of Chicano art from its early role in the Chicano civil rights movement to its mainstream acceptance in American art institutions. Throughout this teaching oriented volume they address a number of themes including the politics of border life, public art practices such as posters and murals and feminist and queer artists' figurations of Chicano bodies. They also chart the multiple cultural and artistic influences from American graffiti and Mexican pre-Columbian spirituality to pop art and modernism that have informed Chicano art's practice. Contributors: Carlos Almaraz, David Avalos, Judith F. Baca, Raye Bemis, Jo Anne Berelowitz.
