of linguistic models to recast trial by media not as a sensationalist and infrequent phenomenon but as a systematic and routine process Using critical discourse analysis and cognitive linguistic models this book builds a Spectrum of Trial by Media which views juries in criminal trials as moulded by ideological media made constructions of crime The role of these media constructions is enhanced by the isolation levied on jurors by the linguistic composition of trial language and reinforced by the language strategies of legal professionals in court Critically deconstructing media portrayals of crime and forensically examining the language of criminal proceedings this book offers a redefinition of trial by media which casts the role of the press as much more prevalent in the courtroom trial than is presently appreciated What's the Point of News?

Tony Harcup,2020-03-30 This book questions whether the news we get is as useful for citizens as it could or should be This international study of news is based on re thinking and re conceptualising the news values that underpin understandings of journalism It goes beyond empirical descriptions of what journalism is to explore normative ideas of what it might become if practised alongside commitments to ethical listening active citizenship and social justice It draws lessons from both alternative and mainstream media output from both journalists and scholars from both practice and theory It challenges dominant news values by drawing on insights from feminism peace journalism and other forms of critical thinking that are usually found on the margins of journalism studies This original and engaging contribution to knowledge proposes an alternative set of contemporary news values that have significant implications for the news industry for journalism education and for democracy itself The Routledge Handbook of Language and Media Colleen Cotter,Daniel Perrin,2017-08-04

Palmer,2018-01-31 The September 11 attacks produced great changes in journalism and the lives of the people who practiced it Foreign reporters felt surrounded by the hate of American colleagues for the enemy Americans in combat areas became literal targets of anti U S sentiment Behind the lines editors and bureau chiefs scrambled to reorient priorities while feeling the pressure of sending others into danger Becoming the Story examines the transformation of war reporting in the decade after 9 11 Lindsay Palmer delves into times when print or television correspondents themselves received intense public scrutiny because of an incident associated with the work of war reporting Such instances include Daniel Pearl s kidnapping and murder Bob Woodruff s near fatal injury in Iraq the expulsions of Maziar Bahari and Nazila Fathi from Iran in 2009 the sexual assault of Lara Logan and Marie Colvin s 2012 death in Syria Merging analysis with in depth interviews of Woodruff and others Palmer shows what these events say about how post 9 11 conflicts transformed the day to day labor of reporting But they also illuminate how journalists work became entangled with issues ranging from digitization processes to unprecedented hostility from all sides to the political logic of the War on Terror

Introduction to Multimodal Analysis

David Machin,2016-09-22 Introduction to Multimodal Analysis is a unique and accessible textbook that clearly and critically explains this groundbreaking approach to visual analysis Each chapter outlines the tools for analysis and takes the reader through examples of analysis providing a model that can then be followed All visual media compositions such as photographs advertisements newspapers and websites are carefully designed A photograph of a soldier an advertisement for a car a magazine cover or the opening titles to a news programme are thought out to create the appropriate effect Designers use semiotic tools such as colour framing focus positioning of elements and font style to communicate with the viewer These choices make up a visual language that we can analyse Multimodal analysis looks at the separate components of this language to build up a toolkit for analysing the grammar of visual design The book includes an assessment of the claim that there is a visual grammar and important differences between images and language and the way they create meaning are identified Including images throughout and a colour plate section Introduction to Multimodal Analysis is an essential resource for students studying multimodality within visual communication in media and cultural studies critical discourse analysis journalism studies or linguistics

Journalists, Sources, and Credibility

Bob Franklin,Matt Carlson,2010-12-14 This volume revisits what we know about the relationship between journalists and their sources By asking new questions employing novel methodologies and confronting sweeping changes to journalism and media the contributors reinvigorate the conversation about who gets to speak through the news It challenges established thinking about how journalists use sources how sources influence journalists and how these patterns relate to the power to represent the world to news audiences Useful to both newcomers and scholars familiar with the topic the chapters bring together leading journalism scholars from across the globe Through a variety of methods including surveys interviews content analysis case studies and newsroom observations the chapters shed light on attitudes and practices in the United States United Kingdom Germany Australia Sweden Belgium and Israel Special attention is paid to the changing context of newsgathering resources coupled with a growth in public relations activities have altered the source journalist dynamic in recent years At the same time the rise of networked digital technologies has altered the barriers between journalists and news consumers leading to unique forms of news with different approaches to sourcing As the media world continues to change this volume offers a timely reevaluation of news sources Community Journalism Midst Media Revolution Sue Robinson, 2016-04-14 This edited volume documents the changes taking place in local community practices globally Digital technologies and globalization have forced evolutions in how we go about producing and consuming journalism and these essays empirically and theoretically advance the scholarly conversations about those trends What does it mean to serve the information needs of a community in a digitized social world where so many of our ties weak and strong are at least partially maintained in virtual worlds With authors and data from all over the world this work celebrates a fundamental connectedness to citizens and their community and renews the emphasis on home as a mandate for any locally focused news organization The contributions to this volume explore the flows within both digital spaces and geographic places that are an important foreground to any conversation about what is community today Several terms are coined and explored in the volume including geosocial journalism and reciprocal journalism that account for the essentiality of information sharing in global public realms to inspire feelings of community belonging Other chapters include a review of Patch.com one of the largest grassroots digital platforms for journalism a survey of how Norwegian community media organizations are adapting to digital worlds how Swedish citizen sites operate and the ethics of community journalists to advocate for their citizenry regarding digital matters Venturing towards both optimism and dismay the collection argues that understandings of communal borders have expanded So even if journalists cannot reach the current locals such as in Africa as one chapter relates or globally transient locals digital technologies can help relocate fractured community into a less problematic virtual space This requires commitment on the part of both journalists and citizens to preserve those connections utilize those technologies and exercise those fundamental principles of community journalism that go back more than half a century This book was originally published as a special issue of Journalism Practice Image Brokers Zeynep Devrim Gursel, 2016-04-12 How does a photograph become a news image An ethnography of the labor behind international news images Image Brokers ruptures the self-evidence of the journalistic photograph by revealing the many factors determining how news audiences are shown people events and the world News images Zeynep G. rsel argues function as formative fictions fictional insofar as these images are constructed and culturally mediated and formative because their public presence and circulation have real consequences in the world Set against the backdrop of the War on Terror and based on fieldwork conducted at photojournalism's centers of power Image Brokers offers an intimate look at an industry in crisis At the turn of the 21st century image brokers the people who manage the distribution and restriction of news images found the core technologies of their craft the status of images and their own professional standing all changing rapidly with the digitalization of the infrastructures of representation From corporate sales meetings to wire service desks newsrooms to photography workshops and festivals Image Brokers investigates how news images are produced and how worldviews are reproduced in the process Semiotics and Visual Communication III Evripides Zantides, 2019-11-12 The chapters in this book consist of selected papers that were presented at the 3rd

International Conference and Poster Exhibition on Semiotics and Visual Communication at the Cyprus University of Technology in November 2017 They investigate the theme of the third conference The Semiotics of Branding and look at branding and brand design as endorsing a reputation and inhabiting a status of almost mythical proportion that has triumphed over the past few decades Emerging from its forerunner corporate identity to incorporate advertising consumer lifestyles and attitudes image rights market research customisation global expansion sound and semiotics and the consumer as the brand the word branding currently appears to be bigger than its own umbrella definition From tribal markers such as totems scarifications and tattoos to emblems of power language fashion architectural space insignias of communal groups heraldic devices religious and political symbols national flags and the like a form of branding is at work that responds to the need to determine the presence and interaction of specific groups persons or institutions through shared codes of meaning
