Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media Julia A. Empey, Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2023-08-24 Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media From Annihilation to High Life and Beyond places posthumanism and feminist theory into dialogue with contemporary science fiction film and media This essay collection is intimately invested in the debates around the posthuman and the critical posthumanities within a feminist critical theoretical framework In this posthumanist light science fiction as a genre allows for new imaginings of human technological relations while it can also be the site of a critique of human exceptionalism and essentialism In this way science fiction affords unique opportunities for the scholarly investigation of the relevance and relative applicability of specific posthumanist themes and questions in a particularly rich and wide ranging popular cultural field of production One of the reasons for this suitability is the genre's historically longstanding relationship with the critical investigation of gender specifically the position and relative empowerment of women The original analyses presented here pay close attention to audiovisual style including game mechanics facilitating the critical interrogation of the issues and questions around posthumanism Where typically the mention of SF in the posthumanist context calls to mind a whole set of often clichéd tropes the cyborg technologically augmented bodies AI subjectivities etc this volume's thirteen chapters analyze specific examples of contemporary SF cinema that engage in meaningful ways with the burgeoning field of critical posthumanism and that utilize such films to interrogate posthumanist and feminist as well as humanistic ideas

Contemporary Fiction in America and England, 1950-1970 Alfred F. Rosa, Paul A. Eschholz, 1976

Contemporary Military Reserves Eyal Ben-Ari, Vincent Connelly, 2022-12-30 This book offers a comparative study of military reserves in contemporary democracies A combination of budgetary pressures new missions and emerging military roles during the past three decades has led the armed forces of democracies to rethink the training and use of reserve forces Moreover reservists have become central to the armed forces as part of moves towards total or comprehensive defense Despite this a scholarly bias towards studying regulars and conscripts means that reservists and reserve soldiers continue to receive only marginal attention This volume fills that lacuna through a series of country studies examining how best to understand the peculiarities of reservist service In contrast to regulars and conscripts reservists are marked by their dual management of civilian and military careers different family dynamics diverse motivations and commitment to the armed forces the material and non material incentives they are offered and their place in the political sphere This volume suggests two frames to make sense of such differences first it looks at reservists as transmigrants traveling between the military and civilian worlds and second it analyzes the multiple informal contracts and negotiations that bind them to the military All the chapters adopt these conceptualizations granting the volume a common focus and integrative frame The volume will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies civil military relations sociology and International Relations

The Palgrave Handbook of Affect Studies and Textual Criticism

Donald R. Wehrs, Thomas Blake, 2017-12-01 This volume provides a comprehensive account of how scholarship on affect and scholarship on texts have come to inform one another over the past few decades. The result has been that explorations of how texts address, elicit, shape, and dramatize affect have become central to contemporary work in literary, film, and art criticism, as well as in critical theory, rhetoric, performance studies, and aesthetics. Guiding readers to the variety of topics, themes, interdisciplinary dialogues, and subdisciplinary specialties that the study of interplay between affect and texts has either inaugurated or revitalized, the handbook showcases and engages the diversity of scholarly topics, approaches, and projects that thinking of affect in relation to texts and related media opens up or enables. These include but are not limited to investigations of what attention to affect brings to established methods of studying texts in terms of period, genre, cultural contexts, rhetoric, and individual authorship.
