

Goals of Transitional Justice

Building accountable institutions: a representative legislature, independent judiciary, and non-political criminal justice system

Ensuring that vulnerable communities have equal access to justice, especially if the conflict cut across this cleavage

Creating a role for women and other marginalized groups in the transitional justice and restoration process

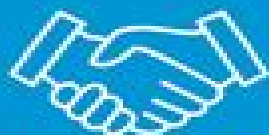

Restoring public trust

Facilitating a sustainable and robust peace process

Addressing the underlying causes of the conflict

Seeking post-conflict reconciliation

Establishing respect for the rule of law

Nice Politics Gender Justice International Criminal:

The Politics of Gender Justice at the International Criminal Court Louise A. Chappell, 2016 This book examines the gender justice design features of the Rome Statute the foundation of the International Criminal Court and assessing the effectiveness of the statute s implementation in the first decade of the court s operation Chappell argues that although the ICC has provided mixed outcomes for gender justice there have also been a number of important breakthroughs particularly in regards to support for female judges Feminist Engagement with International Criminal Law Eithne Dowds, 2020-01-23 This work introduces and further develops the feminist strategy of norm transfer the proposal that feminist informed standards created at the level of international criminal law make their way into domestic contexts Situating this strategy within the complementarity regime of the International Criminal Court ICC it is argued that there is an opportunity for dialogue and debate around the contested aspects of international norms as opposed to uncritical acceptance The book uses the crime of rape as a case study and offers a new perspective on one of the most contentious debates within international and domestic criminal legal feminism the relationship between consent and coercion in the definition of rape In analysing the ICC definition of rape it is argued that the omission of consent as an explicit element is flawed Arguing that the definition is in need of revision to explicitly include a context sensitive notion of consent the book goes further setting out draft legislative amendments to the ICC Elements of Crimes definition of rape and its Rules of Procedure and Evidence Turning its attention to the domestic landscape the book drafts amendments to the United Kingdom UK Sexual Offences Act 2003 and to the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999 thereby showing how the revised version of the ICC definition can be applied in context of the UK Handbook on Gender in World Politics Jill Steans, Daniela Tepe-Belfrage, 2016-07-27 The Handbook on Gender in World Politics is an up to date comprehensive multi disciplinary compendium of scholarship in gender studies The text provides an indispensable reference guide for scholars and students interrogating gender issues in international and global contexts Substantive areas covered include statecraft citizenship and the politics of belonging international law and human rights media and communications technologies political economy development global governance and transnational visions of politics and solidarities Cosmopolitanism and the Development of the International Criminal Court Jennifer Biedendorf, 2019-08-01 Cosmopolitanism and the Development of the International Criminal Court analyzes a set of prominent and competing discourses that emerged in the context of the development and establishment of the International Criminal Court ICC The ICC is the first permanent juridical body designed to prosecute individuals who commit offences including war crimes crimes against humanity and genocide Drawing on scholarship on public memory and human rights the book argues that international law and the international human rights system play a key role for the development of transnational memory discourses and transnational or cosmopolitan subjectivities Despite the International Criminal Court being recognized as a landmark development in global cooperation an examination of key events in the development of the court shows how some state and nonstate actors advance calls for cosmopolitanism while others resist cosmopolitanism to bolster nation state sovereignty Drawing on the establishment of the International Criminal Court as a case study the book examines several events that continue to shape national and international public discourse The book examines debates that occurred during the drafting process of the international treaty at the United Nations and that led to the groundbreaking inclusion of provisions on gender and sexual violence in the Rome Statute of the ICC in 1998 The analysis discusses the tension between feminist advocates rhetoric and the discourse of anti women s rights actors involved in the treaty making process who resisted such inclusions in international criminal law The book analyzes other key events related to the establishment of the ICC that invoke tensions between competing demands of cosmopolitanism and national sovereignty including advocacy campaigns by nongovernmental organizations working to drum up public support of the institution of the International Criminal Court and the debates surrounding the unprecedented act of the United States unsigning an international treaty In sum this examination of the rhetoric of state and nonstate actors attempting to shape the court according to their visions of global community shows how discourses about international criminal law and human rights are employed not only to advance cosmopolitanism but also to strengthen nationalist discourses

In Plain Sight Gaby Zipfel, Kirsten Campbell, Regina Mühlhäuser, (eds.), 2019-12-10 In the mid 1970s at the peak of the women s movement feminist activism and research opened the door to questions that are still pressing today While sexual violence has gained public awareness and become a subject in academic debate efforts to understand and strategies to prevent this form of violence remain inadequate Who are the perpetrators How is sexual violence tied to other forms of violence What are the consequences for individual victims and societies Compiled by the International Research Group Sexual Violence in Armed Conflict SVAC this volume takes an interdisciplinary approach to understanding wartime sexual violence Its enquiry employs four key relationships War Power Violence Sexuality Gender Engendering and Visibility Invisibility Through these the authors identify gaps in existing knowledge to develop a deeper and more nuanced understanding of the field This volume is the result of long standing cooperation The International Research Group Sexual Violence in Armed Conflict SVAC is a network of interdisciplinary scholars and NGO experts founded in October 2010 Sociologists philosophers historians literary and legal scholars as well as NGO professionals from Europe the US Asia and Africa bring together empirical and theoretical studies focusing on sexual violence in different theatres of armed conflict The group compares source material and promotes the systematic development of research questions and methods

Victim No More Ellen Faulkner, Gayle Michelle MacDonald, 2009 This book challenges the idea that women are simply victims of patriarchal systems The editors argue that Women as victim is not an emancipatory cry that encourages all women to join efforts in combating patriarchy Rather the label victim is at its core highly analogous to right wing conservative agendas that keep women politically passive The authors of this collection celebrate the various forms of resistance that women exemplify at individual and collective levels

Book Jacket Crime & Justice International ,2001 Wartime Rape. Sexual Terrorism in the Eastern Provinces of the Democratic Republic of Congo Stefan Kirchner,2008-11-17 Document from the year 2008 in the subject Law European and International Law Intellectual Properties Universit Paris Sorbonne Paris IV language English abstract About 5 4 million people have been killed in the wars in the Democratic Republic of Congo D R C the former Zaire 45 000 die every month and hundreds of thousands of women have been raped here in recent years Wartime rapes are anything but new and have been employed not only to terrorize the population but also as weapon of genocide in Rwanda Bosnia and Darfur The Eastern Congolese provinces of North and South Kivu have been affected by particular gruesome acts of violence and thousands of victims suffer from rape induced fistulae ruptures of the walls which separate the victim s vagina from her rectum According to UN staff and doctors in the region all armed groups in the region are involved in rapes and despite the 2002 Pretoria Accord which put an official end to the war attacks and rapes continue to this very day Many survivors are forced out of their homes and their families abandoned and left to fend for themselves Therefore apart from medical treatment and psychological counseling there is a strong demand for justice But due to the weak position of women in Congolese society justice is much harder to get by than medical treatment Although the Congolese Penal Code and Military Penal Code penalize these crimes the reaction by the Congolese government to the atrocities remains insufficient making a solution based on Congolese criminal law unlikely The practical application of the D R C s domestic laws is found wanting and the law does not have the deterrent effect which is required to prevent future atrocities also due to the traditional position of women in Congolese society continues to be reflected in the law According to Art 448 of the D R C s family code a married woman has to obtain her husband s permission to bring a case to court which provides a major obstacle on the road to justice This book deals with the multidimensional aspects of the problem which range from medicine and psychology to social issues and the quest for justice In the latter part we will examine not only the background by looking at relevant rules of International Human Rights Law and International Humanitarian Law but also look at legal responses to these crimes both on a national level in the D R C as well as on an international level and with the question of how justice can be achieved for rape victims in a country ravaged by war in which women continue to be second class citizens Current Law Index ,2005
