New Money Lana Swartz, 2020-05-01 A new vision of money as a communication technology that creates and sustains invisible, often exclusive communities. One of the basic structures of everyday life, money is at its core a communication media. Payment systems, cash, card, app, or Bitcoin are informational and symbolic tools that integrate us into or exclude us from the society that surrounds us. Examining the social politics of financial technologies, Lana Swartz reveals what's at stake when we pay. This accessible and insightful analysis comes at a moment of disruption from fintech startups to cryptocurrency schemes; a variety of technologies are poised to unseat traditional financial infrastructures. Swartz explains these changes, traces their longer histories, and demonstrates their consequences. Getting paid and paying determines whether or not you can put food on the table. She shows just how important these invisible systems are. The data that payment produces is uniquely revelatory and newly valuable. New forms of money create new forms of identity, new forms of
