Epistemic Evaluation David K. Henderson, John Greco, 2015-10-01 Epistemic Evaluation aims to explore and apply a particular methodology in epistemology. The methodology is to consider the points or purposes of our epistemic evaluations and to pursue epistemological theory in light of such matters. Call this purposeful epistemology. The idea is that considerations about the point and purpose of epistemic evaluation might fruitfully constrain epistemological theory and yield insights for epistemological reflection. Several contributions to this volume explicitly address this general methodology or some version of it. Others focus on advancing some application of the methodology rather than on theorizing about it. The papers go on to explore the idea that purposes allow one to understand the conceptual demands on knowing, examine how purposeful epistemology might shed light on the debate between internalist and externalist epistemologies and further develop the idea of purposeful epistemology.
