Making Choices, Making Do Lois Rita Helmbold, 2022-10-14 Making Choices Making Do is a comparative study of Black and white working class women s survival strategies during the Great Depression Based on analysis of employment histories and Depression era interviews of 1 340 women in Chicago Cleveland Philadelphia and South Bend and letters from domestic workers Lois Helmbold discovered that Black women lost work more rapidly and in greater proportions The benefits that white women accrued because of structural racism meant they avoided the utter destitution that more commonly swallowed their Black peers When let go from a job a white woman was more successful in securing a less desirable job while Black women especially older Black women were pushed out of the labor force entirely Helmbold found that working class women practiced the same strategies but institutionalized racism in employment housing and relief assured that Black women worked harder but fared worse Making Choices Making Do strives to fill the gap in the labor history of women both Black and white The book will challenge the limits of segregated histories and encourage more comparative analyses

Surprised by God Danya Rутtenberg, 2008-08-01 At thirteen Danya Rутtenberg decided that she was an atheist Watching the sea of adults standing up and sitting down at Rosh Hashanah services and apparently giving credence to the patently absurd truth claims of the prayer book she came to a conclusion Marx was right As a young adult

Danya immersed herself in the rhinestone bedazzled wonderland of late 1990s San Francisco attending Halloweens on the Castro drinking smuggled absinthe with wealthy geeks and plotting the revolution with feminist zinemakers But she found herself yearning for something she would eventually call God As she began inhaling countless stories of spiritual awakenings of Catholic saints Buddhist nuns medieval mystics and Hasidic masters she learned that taking that yearning seriously would require much of her Surprised by God is a religious coming of age story from the mosh pit to the Mission District and beyond It s the memoir of a young woman who found lost and found again communities of like minded seekers all the while taking a winding semi reluctant path through traditional Jewish practice that eventually took her to the rabbinate It s a post dotcom third wave punk rock Seven Storey Mountain the story of integrating life on the edge of the twenty first century into the discipline of traditional Judaism without sacrificing either It s also a map through the hostile territory of the inner life an unflinchingly honest guide to the kind of work that goes into developing a spiritual practice in today s world and why perhaps doing this in today s world requires more work than it ever has *Good words, ed. by N.
