Race, Ethnicity, and Consumption Patricia A. Banks, 2020-07-08 Race Ethnicity and Consumption A Sociological View looks at the central concerns of consumer culture through the lens of race and ethnicity Each chapter illustrates the connections between race ethnicity and consumption by focusing on a specific theme identity crossing cultures marketing and advertising neighborhoods discrimination and social activism By exploring issues such as multicultural marketing cultural appropriation consumer racial profiling urban food deserts and racialized political consumerism students scholars and other curious readers will gain insight on the ways that racial and ethnic boundaries shape and are shaped by consumption This book goes beyond the typical treatments of race and ethnicity in introductory texts on consumption by not only providing a comprehensive overview of the major theories and concepts that sociologists use to make sense of consumption race and ethnicity but also by examining these themes within distinctly contemporary contexts such as digital platforms and activism Documenting the complexities and contradictions within consumer culture Race Ethnicity and Consumption is an excellent text for sociology courses on consumers and consumption race and ethnicity the economy and inequality It will also be an informative resource for courses on consumer culture in the broader social sciences marketing and the humanities

Outlaw Heroes as Liminal Figures of Film and Television Rebecca A. Umland, 2016-04-20 Unlike such romanticized renegades as Robin Hood and Jesse James there is another kind of outlaw hero one who lives between the law and his own personal code In times of crisis when the law proves inadequate the liminal outlaw negotiates between the social imperatives of the community and his innate sense of right and wrong While society requires his services he necessarily remains apart from it in self preservation The modern outlaw hero of film and television is rooted in the knight errant whose violent exploits are tempered by his solitude and devotion to a higher ideal In Hollywood classics such as Casablanca 1942 and Shane 1953 and in early series like The Lone Ranger 1949 1957 and Have Gun Will Travel 1957 1963 the outlaw hero reconciles for audiences the conflicting impulses of individual freedom versus serving a larger cause Urban westerns like the Dirty Harry and Death Wish franchises as well as iconic action figures like Rambo and Batman testify to his enduring popularity This book examines the liminal hero's origins in medieval romance his survival in the mythology of the Hollywood western and his incarnations in the urban western and modern action film

Multicultural Curriculum Transformation in Social Studies and Civic Education Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Kerri J. Tobin, Norma A. Marrun, Iesha Jackson, Christine Clark, 2021-07-12 This book focuses on multicultural curriculum transformation in social studies and civic education subject areas The discussion of each area outlines critical considerations for multicultural curriculum transformation for the area by grade level and then by eight organizing tools including content standards relationships with and among students and their families and evaluation of student learning and teaching effectiveness The volume is designed to speak with PK-12 teachers as colleagues in the multicultural curriculum transformation work Readers are exposed to things to think about but also given curricular examples to work with or from in going about the actual concrete work of curriculum change This work supports PK-12 teachers to independently multiculturally adapt existing curriculum to create new multicultural curriculum differentiated by content areas and grade levels and by providing ample examples of what such multicultural transformed social studies and civic education curricula looks like in practice
