M. Taylor, 2014 First comprehensive examination of the ways in which printers publishers and booksellers adapted and rewrote Arthurian romance in early modern France for new audiences and in new forms Arthurian romance in Renaissance France has long been treated by modern critics as marginal although manuscripts and printed volumes adaptations and rewritings show just how much writers and especially publishers saw its potential attractions for readers This book is the first full length study of what happens to Arthur at the beginning of the age of print It explores the fascinations of Arthurian romance in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries from the magnificent presentation volumes offered by Antoine V rard or Galliot du Pr in the early years of the century to the perfunctory abbreviated Lancelot published by Beno t Rigaud in Lyon in 1591 from PierreSala s dutiful translation of Yvain to Jean Maugin s exuberant rewriting of the prose Tristan from attempts at new romance like the little known Giglan to the runaway best seller Amadis de Gaule The book s primary focus is the techniques and stratagems employed by publishers and their workshops to renew Arthurian romance for a new readership the ways in which the publishers the translators and the adapters of the Renaissance tailor romance to fit new cultural contexts Their story which is the story of the rise and fall of one of the great genres of the Middle Ages allows privileged insights into socio cultural and ideological attitudes in the France of the Renaissance and into issues of literary taste particular patterns of choice and preference Jane H M Taylor is Emeritus Professor of French at Durham University the general belief How it was to reach its end whether by fire water or some other agent of ruin the prophets of disaster did not say nor did people trouble themselves to learn Destruction was coming upon them that was enough to know how to provide against it was the one thing to be considered Some hastened to the churches others to the taverns Here prayers went up there wine went down The petitions of the pious were matched by the ribaldry of the profligate Some made their wills others wasted their wealth in revelry eager to get all the pleasure out of life that remained for them Many freely gave away their property hoping by ridding themselves of the goods of this earth to establish a claim to the goods of Heaven with little regard to the fate of those whom they loaded with their discarded wealth It was an era of ignorance and superstition Christendom went insane over an idea When the year ended and the world rolled on none the worse for conflagration or deluge green with the spring leafage and ripe with the works of man dismay gave way to hope mirth took the place of prayer man regained their flown wits and those who had so recklessly given away their wealth bethought themselves of taking legal measures for its recovery Such was one of the events that made that year memorable There was another of a highly different character Instead of a world being lost a world was found The Old World not only remained unharmed but a New World was added to it a world beyond the seas for this was the year in which the foot of the European was first set upon the shores of the trans Atlantic continent It is the story of this first discovery of America that we have now to tell In the autumn of the year 1000 in a region far away from fear haunted Europe a scene was being enacted of a very different character from that just described Over the waters of unknown seas a small strange craft boldly made its way manned by a crew of the hardiest and most vigorous men driven by a single square sail whose coarse woollen texture bellied deeply before the fierce ocean winds which seemed at times as if they would drive that deckless vessel bodily beneath the waves This crew was of men to whom fear was almost unknown the stalwart Vikings of the North whose oar and sail driven barks now set out from the coasts of Norway and Denmark to ravage the shores of southern Europe now turned their prows boldly to the west in search of unknown lands afar Shall we describe this craft It was a tiny one in which to venture upon an untravelled ocean in search of an unknown continent a vessel shaped somewhat like a strung bow scarcely fifty feet in length low amidships and curving upwards to high peaks at stem and stern both of which converged to sharp edges It resembled an enormous canoe rather than aught else to which we can compare it On the stem was a carved and gilt dragon the figurehead of the ship which glittered in the bright rays of the sun Along the bulwarks of the ship fore and aft hung rows of large painted wooden shields which gave an Argus eyed aspect to the craft Between them was a double row of thole pins for the great oars which now lay at rest in the bottom of the boat but by which in calm weather this walker of the seas could be forced swiftly through the yielding element
