Stopping the Shots Schultz Nicholson Lorna, 2024-10-01 Is there room in a family for two hockey stars In this companion book to Taking the Ice goalie Mike Krieger aka Tree takes centre stage Although Mike is known to be calm and collected his home life is more difficult than it seems His younger brother Eric is a hockey hotshot already playing on the top U13 team And their parents are so focused on Eric's game that Mike's success in net is barely noticed except by his older brother Liam who was born with Down syndrome and is Mike's biggest fan Mike's parents dismiss a suggestion that he could be good enough to attend a top goalie camp and while Mike is used to living in Eric's shadow the tension between the two brothers increases when Mike is asked to play goal for Eric's team When an accident threatens Eric's hockey career and money troubles threaten his parents' farm Mike worries he might also have to give up the sport he loves He decides to risk his reputation and more for the new goalie pads he desperately needs But when the truth comes out can Mike find a way to make things right Success in Referential Communication M. Paul, 2013-03-09 One of the most basic themes in the philosophy of language is referential uptake viz the question of what counts as properly understanding a referring act in communication In this inquiry the particular line pursued goes back to Strawson's work on re-identification but the immediate influence is that of Gareth Evans It is argued that traditional and recent proposals fail to account for success in referential communication A novel account is developed resembling Evans account in combining an external success condition with a Fregean one But in contrast to Evans greater emphasis is placed on the action enabling side of communication Further topics discussed include the role of mental states in accounting for communication the impact of re identification on the understanding of referring acts and Donnellan s referential attributive distinction Readership Philosophers cognitive scientists and semanticists
