Higher Education in the United States James J. F. Forest, Kevin Kinser, 2002-06-21 Surveys the changing landscape of American higher education from academic freedom to virtual universities from campus crime to Pell Grants from the Student Privacy Act to student diversity In the years following World War II college and university enrollment doubled students revolted faculty unionized and community colleges evolved Tuition and technology soared as did the number of first generation minority and women students These changes radically transformed the American system of postsecondary education Today that system is in trouble Its aging professoriate prepares for retirement but low academic salaries can no longer attract the best minds to replace them A flood of corporate dollars funds commercial research but money for basic research the seedbed of American scientific preeminence has dried up Colleges and universities also face heated competition with for profit education providers for students faculty and external financial support along with the costs of providing remedial education to growing numbers of students who are unprepared for postsecondary education Higher Education in the United States provides a comprehensive analysis of these issues and others that scholars and practitioners of higher education study discuss and grapple with on a daily basis

An assessment of industrial employment skill gaps among university graduates Mirza, Faisal Mehmood, Jaffri, Atif Ali, Hashmi, Muhammad Saim, 2014-04-21 The objective of this study is to examine different assessments of employers and students about job skills leading to differences defined as skill employability and perception gaps based on surveys of 100 industrial employers and 151 final year students from 6 universities and postgraduate colleges in the Gujrat Sialkot Gujranwala industrial cluster Factor analysis grouped 24 specific skills into the three interpretable categories communication and business specific skills core employability skills and professional skills The results suggest gaps in all three respects for each of the skill categories Employers were least satisfied with the professional skill s of new employees compared to their scores on the importance of these skills Students also scored their own professional skills lower than the importance of these skills in the job market Smaller but similar differences arise for the other skill categories Students generally gave higher nominal scores to the importance of all skills than were given by employers When disaggregated by discipline students in more technical fields engineering computer science and IT which are supposed to possess high level of technical skills claim a shortage of these skills whereas students from economics commerce and business administration indicated they were neither sound in professional skills nor the softer skills Close coordination among all stakeholders through internship programs for students development and timely revision of market oriented curricula and special skill enhancement training programs are recommended steps to enhance productive youth employment in Pakistan

Scholarly Communication in Library and Information Services Bhaskar Mukherjee, 2010-07-27 This book has been written with a view to understand the validity of the perceptions of Open Access OA e journals in the

Library and Information Science LIS field Using relevant OA journals this book presents and evaluates journals qualitatively and quantitatively Over the last three hundred years scholarly journals have been the prime mode of transport in communicating the scholarly research process However in the last few decades a changing scenario has been witnessed in their form and format OA is an innovative idea that attracts a fair amount of support and opposition around the world because it bridges the gap between digitally divided scholars by solving the pricing and permission crises that have imbalanced the scholarly communication process Some scholars are of the opinion that OA has led to a chaotic environment where anyone can publish anything Scholarly Communication in Library and Information Services records in detail the impact by accessing the journals web site qualitatively and quantitatively in measuring the important elements such as articles authors countries subjects and cited references Finally the book calculates the impact factor using synchronous and asynchronous approaches First ever study to extensively evaluate LIS Journals Web site qualitatively by using a newly developed set of criteria LIS OA journals are also evaluated quantitatively Counts citations of LIS OA articles in terms of formal citations by using Google Scholar
