McNall,2015-12-07 Within and among nations rising levels of social inequality threaten our collective future Currently upwards of 80% of people s life chances are determined by factors over which they have absolutely no control Social inequality threatens the democratic project because it destroys the trust on which governments depend and it gives rise to corrupt political and economic institutions How can we get out of the traps we have created for ourselves We need to reboot capitalism Drawing on diverse examples from a range of countries McNall explains the social economic and ecological traps we have set for ourselves and develops a set of rules of resilience that are necessary conditions for the creation and maintenance of democratic societies and a set of rules essential for creating a sustainable future The Great Southwest ,1889 The Great Tradeoff Steven R. Weisman ,2016-01-07 The global financial and economic crisis that began in 2008 has blasted livelihoods inspired protests and toppled governments It has also highlighted the profound moral concerns long surrounding globalization Did materialist excess doctrinaire embrace of free trade and capital flows and indifference to economic injustice contribute to the disaster of the last decade Was it ethical to bail out banks and governments while innocent people suffered In this blend of economics moral philosophy history and politics Steven R Weisman argues that the concepts of liberty justice virtue and loyalty help to explain the passionate disagreements spawned by a globally integrated economy
