One Good Run The Legend Of Burt Munro:

One Good Run Tim Hanna, 2011 Large Print Burt Munro Neill Birss, 2016-06-13 Previously unpublished interviews with Burt Munro legendary Kiwi motorcycle rider made famous in the movie The World's Fastest Indian Colourful tales of a life well lived Invercargill at the far southern end of New Zealand It's the late 1960s and two blokes sit in a modest shed drinking tea The old bloke is telling stories about his life the young bloke a junior reporter is typing earnestly on his Olympia portable typewriter Dramatic tales abound of youthful scrapes motorcycle races and ingenious repairs of international travel and friendships and road trips of high speeds and accidents and meetings with dutiful policemen Burt Munro became known around the world through the 2005 movie The World's Fastest Indian but had long been known to motorcycle fans as a colourful character and speed record holder Our young journalist Neill Birss moved away from Invercargill and the interviews he had typed out were never published In fact they were lost during the move and only resurfaced under strange circumstances many decades later Here they are in this book the lost interviews with Burt Munro legendary Kiwi motorcycle rider his voice as fresh and his stories as vivid as the day he told them to the young reporter One Good Run Tim Hanna, 2006 This is the story of a Kiwi motorcycling legend backyard engineering genius and land speed record holder He was the archetypal eccentric inventor who modified an original Indian motorbike in his shed making it capable of extreme speeds From small town New Zealand in the 1920s to heroic accomplishments in the USA Munro was still inventing up until his death in 1978 An Alternative History of Bicycles and Motorcycles Steven E. Alford, Suzanne Ferriss, 2016-04-06 An Alternative History of Bicycles and Motorcycles Two Wheeled Transportation and Material Culture accounts for the nineteenth century creation and development of two wheeled vehicles both human powered and motorized Specifically the book focuses on the period from 1885 which saw the appearance simultaneously of the Safety bicycle and the Einspur the first motorcycle to 1920 while exploring implications for later bicycling and motorcycling We argue that invention of these vehicles rather than the product of gifted individuals should be seen as the consequence of a number of historical economic cultural and political forces that intersect so unpredictably that the notion of a genius inventor is reductive The common evolutionary model of development from the bicycle to the motorcycle oversimplifies both the technology and its origins Stripping the vehicles of all their material and cultural associations such a model fails to advance our understanding of the devices their creators and their riders Taking a contemporary vehicle and tracing its lineage creates a false sense of evolutionary necessity in its creation and fails to account for the many possible developmental paths that were for whatever reason abandoned By contrast our book adopts a material culture approach a form of inquiry that stresses the connections between artifacts and social relations We consider not simply the bicycle and motorcycle as material objects but focus also on the complex socio political and economic convergences that produced the materials materials that in turn themselves shaped the vehicles appearance function and adoption by riders Historical Dictionary of New Zealand Janine Hayward, Richard
