occurred in recent decades as a result of globalisation From a range of diverse national contexts including Kenya and South Africa Australia and Canada and the United States and Pakistan authors explore the intersections between masculinity femininity and rurality in education In recognition of the heterogeneity of categories such as rural girl and rural boy they attend to how educational exclusions can be magnified by differences in relation to social locations such as class race or sexuality Similar critical insights are brought to bear as authors examine what it means to be a male or female teacher in rural environments Contributors draw on data ranging from contemporary feature films to historical materials along with detailed ethnographic work and participatory approaches to produce a compelling narrative of the need to understand education as experienced by those who are not part of the urban majority This book was originally published as a special issue of Gender and Education Gender and Global Restructurings Marianne H. Marchand, Anne Sisson

Runyan, 2024-12-30 In the new edition of this bestselling text and scholarly reference new and revised chapters reflect shifts in the gendered classed racialized and sexualized nature of ongoing global restructurings Through fresh intersectional feminist analyses of widening health climate care inequality democracy and knowledge crises since the Great Financial Crisis and the deepening of many forms of capitalism this volume stresses the complexities of multiple restructurings which demand new ways to think across sightings sites and resistances Some of each of these elements are in every chapter which take the reader to different sightings such as of neoliberalizations neoauthoritarianizations multipolarizations financializations and migrations They also bring into view different geographic sites such as Hong Kong sub Saharan and North Africa Canada Mexico Bangladesh and the trade blocs of the European Union and the BRICs and different nongeographic sites such as productive and reproductive economies and the virtual economy of finance and digitalization They further highlight different forms of women s and feminist resistance such as local and national labor organizing regional and multipolar organizing reimagining infrastructure design and broadening noncapitalist community and solidarity economies Many chapters critique problematic constructions of women s empowerment and all challenge the machinations of neoliberal capital that undermine most women marginalized peoples and the planet Providing a coherent and challenging approach to contemporary gendered globalization better understood as global restructurings since the last edition over a decade ago Gender and Global Restructurings will be of interest to students and scholars of international political economy international relations economics development and gender studies Participatory action research in a time of COVID

China Using a socialist feminist approach the book investigates how China's economic restructuring has deliberately crafted a domestic service sector from the top down Through the analysis of the situation of paid domestic labour it demonstrates how the changes in socialist ideology under a market economy have justified the state's support for paid domestic labour the large role of the state in these ideological changes and how domestic labour is related to economic changes and the market economy itself The book argues that state's economic reforms have changed gender and class relations in Chinese society Based on interviews with domestic workers their employers their social advocates and government officials this book examines the economic and social security of domestic workers and provides information about their precarious working conditions that could be improved through public policy It also explores women's agency and activism and the current role of NGOs and trade unions in labour protection
