Comparing Peace Processes Alpaslan Özerdem, Roger Mac Ginty, 2019-03-18 This book offers a comparative survey of 18 contemporary peace processes conducted by leading international scholars There is no standard model of peace processes and all will vary according to the context type of conflict timing national and global economic climate and factors like natural disasters Therefore making comparisons between peace processes is difficult but it is beneficial indeed imperative and is the principal motivation behind this volume What works in one context may not work in another but it can be modified and adapted to fit another context The book is structured to maximise comparison between processes and the case studies chosen are topical and span the major regions of the world The concluding chapter systematically compares the case studies around 11 variables that cover the conflict context peace process procedures the responsiveness of the peace process to demands and levels of participation and inclusion Each peace process is then given a numeric score according to each of these variables and the book thereby reaches judgements on whether each case can be termed a success or a failure This book will be essential reading for students of peace studies conflict resolution war and conflict studies security studies and IR

Peacebuilding and Friction Annika Björkdahl, Kristine Höglund, Gearoid Millar, Jair van der Lijn, Willemijn Verkoren, 2016-03-02 This book aims to understand the processes and outcomes that arise from frictional encounters in peacebuilding when global and local forces meet Building a sustainable peace after violent conflict is a process that entails competing ideas political contestation and transformation of power relations This volume develops the concept of friction to better analyse the interplay between global ideas actors and practices and their local counterparts The chapters examine efforts undertaken to promote sustainable peace in a variety of locations such as Cambodia Sri Lanka Afghanistan and Sierra Leone These case analyses provide a nuanced understanding not simply of local processes or of the hybrid or mixed agencies ideas and processes that are generated but of the complex interactions that unfold between all of these elements in the context of peacebuilding intervention The analyses demonstrate how the ambivalent relationship between global and local actors leads to unintended and sometimes counterproductive results of peacebuilding interventions The approach of this book with its focus on friction as a conceptual tool advances the peacebuilding research agenda and adds to two ongoing debates in the peacebuilding field the debate on hybridity and the debate on local agency and local ownership In analysing frictional encounters this volume prepares the ground for a better understanding of the mixed impact peace initiatives have on post conflict societies This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding conflict resolution security studies and international relations in general

Peacebuilding in Crisis Tobias Debiel, Thomas Held, Ulrich Schneckenner, 2016-01-29 The 1990s saw a constant increase in international peace missions predominantly led by the United Nations whose mandates were more and more extended to implement societal and political transformations in post conflict societies However in many cases these missions did not meet the high expectations and did not acquire a sufficient legitimacy on the local level Written by leading experts in the field this edited volume brings together liberal and post liberal approaches to peacebuilding Besides challenging dominant peacebuilding paradigms the book scrutinizes how far key concepts of post liberal peacebuilding offer sound categories and new perspectives to reframe peacebuilding research. It thus moves beyond the liberal post liberal divide and systematically integrates further perspectives paving the way for a new era in peacebuilding research which is theory guided but also substantiated in the empirical analysis of peacebuilding practices. This book will be essential reading for postgraduate students and scholar practitioners working in the field of peacebuilding. By embedding the subject area into different research perspectives the book will also be relevant for scholars who come from related backgrounds such as democracy promotion transitional justice statebuilding conflict and development research and international relations in general.

The EU as a State-builder in International Affairs Labinot Greiçevci, 2021-11-04. This book presents a systematic in depth and comparative analysis of the role of the EU in the process of international state building and is one of the first comprehensive books to do so at an international level. Taking the case of Kosovo it examines the EU's role in the birth of a state in comparison to other international actors from 1999 to 2008 and moves on to analyse the EU's role in norm diffusion in the post independence period 2008-2020. Throughout the book the author draws parallel analyses with broader debates and scholarly literature regarding the EU's role as a state builder or norm diffuser. Combining a liberal peace thesis framework with the normative power Europe (NPE) approach it analyses how successful the EU and other international actors were in the diffusion of tangible and normative impacts in the process of state building in Kosovo 1999-2008 along with the EU's diffusion of normative impact from 2008 to 2020. Finally it scrutinises the role of the EU and other international actors in the processes of state building through transference tools funding and overt tools political role. This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU foreign policy European politics peace and conflict studies the Western Balkans state building international organisations and more broadly to international relations.

Innovations in Peace and Education Praxis David Tim Archer, Basma Hajir, William W. McInerney, 2023-03-31. This edited collection brings together a series of conceptual explorations and practical case studies to illuminate a developing innovative praxis of transdisciplinary peace and education. Drawing on the work of the Cambridge Peace and Education Research Group as well as international scholars this book responds to calls for transdisciplinary peace and education praxis and presents innovative examples of peace and education research practices peace interventions in educational settings and alternative ontologies in peace and education work. Foregrounding the concept of second order reflexivity the book prioritises the lived experiences and viewpoints of struggling populations regarding the worth of peace as grounded within their contexts. Ultimately this book showcases how the practices of peace education and research can challenge the binaries of modern and postmodern approaches and provide examples of holistic transdisciplinary approaches that embrace complexity and criticality. Contributing new knowledge to peace and education this volume will be of great interest to academics post graduate students and researchers in the field of peace education peace studies and development studies. Failed Peacemaking Sandra Pogodda, Oliver P. Richmond, Gëzim Visoka, 2023-07-10 This book investigates why peace and reform processes across the world have recently been stagnating or have become blocked They have failed to maintain security rights development and justice in the liberal international order The book identifies the related rise of counter peace processes at the heart of failed peacemaking efforts and explores the implications for an emerging multi polar order where local and international tools for peace and reform appear to be ineffective Across a range of recent cases from Cambodia the Balkans the Sahel region DRC Colombia Afghanistan and many others such dynamics are becoming clearer In particular small scale blocking tactics across different peace processes have been evolving into larger political strategies which are then disseminated within revisionist and revanchist international networks Ultimately this phenomenon has undermined liberal international order Spoilers and tactical blockages to peace have connected across local national regional and international scales highlighting ideological divisions Drawing on counter revolutionary theory the concept of counter peace is used as a tool to critically interrogate a systemic array of blockages to peace Distinct counter peace patterns are now entangled in peace and reform processes including the stalemate pattern the limited counter peace and the unmitigated counter peace patterns Across cases once tactical blockages begin to form these patterns they become systemic and ultimately enable conflict escalation Consequently the intimate entanglement of the existing international peace architecture with counter peace processes points to ideological divisions in international order as well as the growing gulf between diminished practices of peace and reform with critical scholarship on peace justice and sustainability

Surviving the Islamic State Austin Knappe, 2024-07-02 How did ordinary Iraqis survive the occupation of their communities by the Islamic State How did they decide whether to stay or flee to cooperate or resist Based on an original survey from Baghdad alongside key interviews in the field this book offers an insightful account of how Iraqis in different areas of the country responded to the rise and fall of the Islamic State Austin J Knappe argues that people adopt survival repertoires a variety of social practices tools organized routines symbols and rhetorical strategies to navigate wartime violence and detect threats He traces how repertoires varied among different communities over the course of the conflict In areas insulated from insurgent control such as cosmopolitan Baghdad local residents had the flexibility to support coalition forces while also voicing opposition to government policies For

Iraqis in rural communities confronting insurgent control collaboration and resistance entailed significant risks In Sunni majority communities in the western desert passive acquiescence and active cooperation temporarily insulated Iraqis from insurgent victimization For ethnic and religious minorities in the north however flight or resistance proved the only viable options In many communities local residents mobilized neighborhood self defense groups and militias loosely aligned with coalition forces once the tides turned against the Islamic State Beyond contributing to academic and policy debates about civilian protection during wartime Surviving the Islamic State foregrounds everyday people s experiences while modeling an ethical approach for conducting field research in conflict affected communities

International Peacebuilding and Local Resistance Roger Mac Ginty, 2011-05-26 Using the case studies of Afghanistan Iraq Bosnia Lebanon and Northern Ireland this book dissects internationally supported peace interventions Looking at issues of security statebuilding civil society and economic and constitutional reform it proposes using the concept of hybridity to understand the dynamics of societies in transition

Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation Caitlin Mollica, 2024-04-01 The importance of youth s substantive participation for the realization of inclusive reconciliation practices has rarely been acknowledged Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation provides a comprehensive nuanced and empirical account of the contribution of young people s voices to the success of transitional justice and peacebuilding practices Caitlin Mollica illustrates the role of political will and agency in the development of transitional justice mechanisms that are substantively inclusive of those traditionally marginalized by post conflict institutions most notably youth In doing so she highlights the importance of youth to lasting peace and meaningful justice She does so by looking specifically at how truth and reconciliation commissions from South Africa to the Solomon Islands engage with the voices of youth and the meanings youth self ascribe to their experiences during truth and reconciliation commission processes In a field which traditionally prioritizes stories about youth Agency and Ownership in Reconciliation looks to center stories by youth

Negotiating Well-being in Central Asia David W. Montgomery, 2016-02-05 Much scholarship of any region focuses on the perceived problems that hold back a population Central Asia is no exception as it is a region with political economic and environmental problems that seem to keep Central Asians from a better future Alongside all the struggles of life however are relationships of meaning and wellness that contribute to a life worth living Recognizing the struggles of everyday life contributors to this book explore how people navigate relationships to find meaning how elders attempt to re establish morality and how development workers pursue new futures Such futures centre around the role of family friends and meaningful employment in yielding contentment and the influence of Islam ethnicity and hospitality on community The first regional collection to take well being as a frame of analysis the contributors show how visions spaces and cosmologies of well being inform everyday life in Central Asia This volume will appeal not only to those interested in Central Asia but more broadly to anyone concerned with how taking well being into account better captures the complex realities of life in any region This book was published as a special issue of
