Nirmal Singh, 2012-10-13 This monograph is devoted to the theory and development of autonomous navigation of mobile robots using computer vision based sensing mechanism The conventional robot navigation systems utilizing traditional sensors like ultrasonic IR GPS laser sensors etc suffer several drawbacks related to either the physical limitations of the sensor or incur high cost Vision sensing has emerged as a popular alternative where cameras can be used to reduce the overall cost maintaining high degree of intelligence flexibility and robustness This book includes a detailed description of several new approaches for real life vision based autonomous navigation algorithms and SLAM It presents the concept of how subgoal based goal driven navigation can be carried out using vision sensing The development concept of vision based robots for path line tracking using fuzzy logic is presented as well as how a low cost robot can be indigenously developed in the laboratory with microcontroller based sensor systems The book describes successful implementation of integration of low cost external peripherals with off the shelf procured robots An important highlight of the book is that it presents a detailed step by step sample demonstration of how vision based navigation modules can be actually implemented in real life under 32 bit Windows environment The book also discusses the concept of implementing vision based SLAM employing a two camera based system The Autocar, 1973 House Beautiful's Home Maintenance and Building Manual, 1950 House Beautiful's Maintenance & Postwar Building Manual, 1949 Billboard, 1959-09-14 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Microcomputer Architecture Dimosthenis E. Bolanakis, Euripidis Glavas, Giorgos A. Evangelakis, Konstantinos T. Kotsis, Theodore Laopoulos, 2012-11-05 Through a long term research in education the authors incorporate in this book all the information needed for an effective microcontroller based tutoring system which is particularly suitable for readers with insufficient background on hardware design issues In addition the book addresses a pedagogy that draws readers attention to the parallelism between assembly level programming for microcontrollers and higher level programming a particularly helpful guide for those who might have previous experience on high level programming The book provides a comprehensive guide on the subject of microcomputer architecture teaching and learning and it is designed for a variety of engineering disciplines such as Electrical Engineering Electronic Engineering Automation Engineering Computer Engineering and all the engineering disciplines that have specific requirements for the design and development of microcontroller based applications Apart from the academic community the book is designed to support self study training appropriate for professional engineers
