Re-Shaping Learning: A Critical Reader Anne Boddington,Jos Boys,2012-01-01 Learning Spaces is an emerging field fuelled by a growing interest in the relationships between learning and spaces in which it takes place whether conceptual personal social physical and or virtual It is concerned with making learning spaces that can better meet the needs of 21st century learners academics and other related publics In post compulsory education this has opened up many interesting and important issues There remains a lack of any theoretical understanding as to how such spaces should be conceived or designed and hardly any critical discussion about effective frameworks for either the development of contemporary learning spaces or for assessing their impact on learning teaching and research At the same time there is much debate about what the purposes of post compulsory education should be as well as concerns about where and by whom it should be provided We therefore need to urgently improve our understanding of the interactions between learning and space It is essential that we not only share perspectives theories and methodologies but also critically reflect on our own different assumptions and work together to build better models for post compulsory education in the future To help in this process this book is designed as a critical reader that can enable researchers academics students and managers involved in Learning Spaces to share and engage with some key ideas issues and texts A central aim is to bring together some of the best research from across the many different disciplines concerned with learning spaces including education architecture anthropology human computer interaction estate planning and museum studies Reshaping Learning is thus intended for anyone interested in and wanting to think more about learning spaces whether as users clients or managers or who are want to better understand interactions between the social and the spatial

Shakespeare and the Challenge of the Contemporary Francesca Clare Rayner, 2021-09-23 Contemporary performance is a particularly stimulating area for the study of how Shakespeare is produced and received in different cultural contexts Francesca Clare Rayner's original and thought provoking book highlights the diversity and experimentalism of contemporary performance practices through a focus on unexplored performances in Portugal This book references key debates within contemporary performance studies on intermediality globalization and political participation and analyses their particular configurations within the Portuguese context These case studies represent clear alternatives to the market driven view of the contemporary as the continual reproduction of the new and the topical for global consumers Instead they recast the contemporary as a site of disempowerment crisis and erasure in a Europe fragmented by economic austerity political divisions around Brexit ecological vacillation and an anxious refashioning of global relations between North and South

Kant's Shorter Writings Robert Hanna, Rafael V. Orden Jiménez, Robert Loudon, 2017-01-06 This collection highlights the importance of Kant's shorter writings which span the entire intellectual career of this seminal thinker It contrasts with other philosophical studies of Kant's work which typically focus on a specific period of his career and on either his theoretical philosophy or his practical philosophy These shorter works offer a framework for understanding several central questions of critical philosophy in the context of Kant's complete corpus of writings As such this volume provides a ground breaking approach to contemporary Kant studies by offering a new interpretive perspective to enable Kant scholars to advance their research projects At the same time it allows a general overview of Kant's work for a broader non scholarly audience interested in his critical philosophy and its context

Black Music, Black Poetry Gordon E. Thompson, 2016-04-15 Black Music Black Poetry offers readers a fuller appreciation of the diversity of approaches to reading black American poetry It does so by linking a diverse body of poetry to musical genres that range from the spirituals to contemporary jazz The poetry of familiar figures such as Paul Laurence Dunbar and Langston Hughes and less well known poets like Harryette Mullen or the lyricist to Pharaoh Sanders Amos Leon Thomas is scrutinized in relation to a musical tradition contemporaneous with the lifetime of each poet Black music is considered the strongest representation of black American communal consciousness and black poetry by drawing upon such a musical legacy lays claim to a powerful and enduring black aesthetic The contributors to this volume take on issues of black cultural authenticity of musical imitation and of poetic performance as displayed in the work of Paul Laurence Dunbar Langston Hughes Sterling Brown Amiri Baraka Michael Harper Nathaniel Mackey Jayne Cortez Harryette Mullen and Amos Leon Thomas Taken together these essays offer a rich examination of the breath of black poetry and the ties it has to the rhythms and forms of black music and the influence of black music on black poetic practice Essai de Philosophie religieuse. Essay on Religious Philosophy ... Translated, with marginal analysis, notes, critical essay, and philosophical appendix Émile Edmond SAISSET,1863 Walt Whitman Quarterly Review ,2011
