Needless Hunger Voices From A Bangladesh Village:

Needless Hunger Betsy Hartmann, James K. Boyce, 1979 Why is a country with some of the world's most fertile land also the home of so many hungry people Betsy Hartmann and James Boyce both Bengali speaking anthropologists spent two years in Bangladesh investigating the paradox of hunger in a basketcase country that actually produces enough grain for its people Needless Hunger follows the history and structure of Bangladesh society and also draws us into the daily lives of the people of Katni the village where the authors lived There is no natural barrier to filling the basic human needs of Bangladesh's people they conclude But there is the man made barrier of a social order benefiting the few at the expense of the many They found that the foreign aid pouring into the country actually entrenches the very elite who keep the majority powerless and hungry Needless Hunger is also a book of hope describing the strength and potential of the Bangladesh people and their desire for a society where food producing resources are controlled by the majority Book jacket Role of Educational Institutions in Helping to Alleviate World Hunger United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Hunger, 1984

Political Economy of Rural Development Rosemary E. Galli, 1981-06-30 This volume is concerned with integrated social and economic development in the Third World It directs special attention to the psychological manipulation of peasants in order to keep them on the land and where possible make them more productive In Part One Henry Bernstein outlines and illustrates concepts for the analysis of contemporary peasantries His introduction provides a general historical framework for understanding the relationship of contemporary peasantries to modernization It is followed in Parts Two and Three by case studies of programs in Colombia Rosemary E Galli Mexico Hannes Lorenzen and Ernest Feder Tanzania Bruno Musti de Gennaro and Bangladesh Elizabeth Hartmann and James K Boyce In Part Four Rosemary Galli offers a concluding essay on Rural Development and the Contradiction of Capitalist Development In this book empirical evidence combines with personal experiences to cut through the rhetoric of those who consider the underdeveloped nation as an abstract unit It reveals the variety of contemporary rural development strategies From their synthesis emerges a picture of the internal political configuration of underdevelopment the role of international capital and technology in rural areas and in assessment of the impact upon peasant farmers This book persuasively argues that international agencies supporting and supported by national governments and elites promote development policies inimical to the welfare of rural cultivators World Hunger Joseph Collins, 2014-02-04 The revised edition of this text includes substantial new material on hunger in the aftermath of the Cold War global food production versus population growth changing demographics and falling birth rates around the world the shifting focus of foreign assistance in the new world order structural adjustment and other budget slashing policies trade liberalization and free trade agreements famine and humanitarian interventions and the third worldization of developed nations Food First: Selected Writings from 40 Years of Movement Building Teresa K Miller, Tanya M Kerksen, 2015-12-15 This book looks back on forty years of writings from the Oakland based Institute for Food and Development Policy better known as Food First on the occasion of its 40th anniversary The book highlights the breadth and depth of the organization's published works addressing issues such as hunger international trade US foreign policy the Green Revolution agroecology climate justice land reform food and farm workers rights and food sovereignty

Encyclopedia of World Poverty Mehmet Odekon, 2006 Provides extensive and current information as well as insight into the contemporary debate on poverty and contains over 800 original articles written by more than 125 renowned scholars

Why Nations Fail to Feed the Poor Mohammad Mozahidul Islam, 2022-10-06 This book examines the political and economic dimensions of food security in Bangladesh and assesses the role of the state in meeting the challenges of food security The key concern which is at the heart of this study is to explore how Bangladesh responds when its people go hungry There are no detailed empirical studies that examine the Bangladesh's role by providing an historical cum political analysis however conventional approaches are primarily concerned with a partial diagnosis of the economic or nutritional problems of food security The book then provides a detailed picture of the missing dimensions of state that include the strength of institutions the scope of state functions and other important attributes In doing so it uses the concept of neo patrimonialism to explore the political system of Bangladesh This book explicates the various impediments to food security ranging from the process of policy formulation to their implementation mechanisms It unpacks the structural weaknesses of the Bangladesh's institutional capacity in promoting food security and in the process argues that the root cause of food insecurity is deeply embedded in the nature of the government itself and the political institutions that link the state and society

The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 2: Famine Prevention Jean Drèze, Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world

A Quiet Violence Betsy Hartmann, James K. Boyce, 1983 Field study of living conditions in a village of Bangladesh describes historical background to poverty the agrarian structure and agricultural production mentions landowner attitudes rural youth rural women and children examines the role of Islamic religion marriage the rural area social classes particularly peasant farmers and landless agricultural workers covers land and production relations agricultural marketing violence corruption development aid etc Photographs and references

Reshaping the Holy Elora Shehabuddin, 2008 Through extensive field research Elora Shehabuddin explores the profound implications of women's political and social mobilization for reshaping Islam Specifically she examines the lives of Muslim women in Bangladesh who have become increasingly mobilized by the activities of predominantly secular NGOs yet who desire to retain reclaim and reshape rather than reject their faith In their employment and in their interactions with the legal system the state NGOs and political and religious groups women are changing state practices views of women in the public sphere and the nature of lived Islam itself In contrast to most work on Islam and Muslims which has focused on the Middle East and has privileged the study of religious and legal texts this book redirects our attention to South Asia home to one of the largest Muslim populations in the world and emphasizes the actual experiences of Muslims Women and gender as well as Bangladesh s formally democratic context are central to this inquiry and analysis Community Development

Around the World Hubert Campfens,1997-01-01 More than forty authors in six countries representing the major regions of the world offer a truly global perspective on the changing nature of the practice and theory of community development

Science, Politics, And The Agricultural Revolution In Asia Robert S Anderson,Paul R Brass,Edwin Levy,Barrie Morrison,2019-05-28 Agriculture in southern Asia has undergone a radical transformation in recent years one that continues to alter the political economy of the area Beyond the familiar elements of the green revolution there has been an increase in resource exploitation for food production and a rise in the economic and political strength of food producers as well

Economic Democracy: The Political Struggle of the 21st Century J. W. Smith,2017-10-03 This title was first published in 1999 The author contends that economic democracy is the economic system the U S purports to have but has thus far failed to achieve because it like all the economic powers that have gone before seeks to control the economies of weaker nations It is the shocking lack of economic democracy and the efforts of so many to achieve it that fuels today s conflicts and will fuel those of the 21st century To show how and why this comprehensive work provides a detailed analysis of the history of numerous aspects of the development of the Neo Mercantilist world economy the geopolitical systems put in place by the developed world to manage and perpetuate that economy and the numerous proposals and modeling plans that have been offered over the years for the achievement of economic democracy Bangladesh im Schatten der Macht

Winfried Böttcher,1986 Anthropology and Contemporary Human Problems John H. Bodley,2012-04-12 We live in a time of global mega problems of unsustainable growth and consumption resource depletion ecosystem degradation global warming escalating energy costs poverty and conflict Cultural anthropologist John H Bodley trenchantly critiques these most pressing issues and shows how anthropology makes it possible to find solutions The focus on culture scale suggests that many solutions may be found by developing local communities supported by regional markets and ecosystems rather than by making the continuous accumulation of financial capital the dominant cultural process throughout the world Now in its sixth edition this classic textbook continues to have tremendous relevance and is more timely than ever in light of the recent global economic crisis It exposes readers to the problems of a world out of balance with misdirected growth by the elite Bodley offers examples from prehistoric and modern tribal societies along side of ancient imperial and contemporary commercial societies Students will find this to be the trusted source to build a world view Anthropology and Contemporary Human Problems is ideal for adoption in anthropology and sociology courses on globalization cultural ecology social class and inequality the environment sustainability and development Food And Evolution Marvin Harris,Eric B. Ross,1987 Author note Marvin Harris is a Graduate Research Professor of Anthropology at the University of Florida Eric B Ross has taught at Mount Holyoke and the University of Michigan

The India Handbook C. Steven LaRue,2013-10-23 First Published in 1998 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Subalterns and Raj Crispin Bates,2013-09-16

Subalterns and Raj presents a unique introductory history of India with an account that begins before the period of British rule and pursues the continuities within that history up to the present day Its coverage ranges from Mughal India to post independence Pakistan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka with a focus on the ordinary people of India and South Asia Subalterns and Raj examines overlooked issues in Indian social history and highlights controversies between historians Taking an iconoclastic approach to the elites of South Asia since independence it is critical of the colonial regime that went before them This book is a stimulating and controversial read and with a detailed guide to further reading and end of chapter bibliographies it is an excellent guide for all students of the Indian subcontinent Contraception across Cultures Andrew Russell,Mary Thompson,Elisa J. Sobo,2020-06-04 Contraception is an issue of considerable concern to a great many heterosexually active people Yet the impact of contraceptive technologies in the world today in particular their implications for kinship gender relations and other aspects of social life receives relatively little scholarly attention This book brings a new perspective to the study of contraception by collecting together in one volume leading experts in the fields of contraception family planning and reproductive health Contributors look at the social economic political and cultural contexts in which contraceptive providers and recipients make decisions about whether and what forms of contraception to use User perspectives whether those of recipients or providers of contraceptive services are taken seriously as are the perspectives of policy makers and development experts With its in depth case study approach this challenging book will appeal to practitioners and planners in the fields of family planning and reproductive health as well as to students and academics of applied and medical anthropology health studies gender and development studies or anyone interested in the social cultural and ethical issues raised by contraceptive technologies Contemporary Issues in African Administration and Development Politics ,1990
