Gender and Global Restructuring Marianne H. Marchand, Anne Sisson Runyan, 2010-09-13 In this new edition of this best-selling text, interdisciplinary feminist experts from around the world provide new analyses of the ongoing relationship between gender and neoliberal globalization under the new imperialism in the post 9/11 context. Divided into Sightings, Sites and Resistances, this book examines the disciplining politics of race, sexuality and modernity under securitized globalization, including case studies on domestic workers in Hong Kong, heteronormative development policies and responses to the crisis of social reproduction and colonizing responses to AIDS in sub-Saharan Africa, migration, human rights and citizenship, including studies on remittances, the emergence of neoliberal subjectivities among rural Mexican women, Filipina migrant workers and women's labor organizing in the Middle East and North Africa, feminist resistance incorporating the latest scholarship on transnational feminism and feminist critical globalization, movement activism, including case studies on men's violence on the Mexico-US border, pan-indigenous women's movements and cyberfeminism. Providing a coherent and challenging approach to the issues of gender and the processes of globalization in the new millennium, this important text will be of interest to students and scholars of IPE, international relations, economics, development and gender studies.

The Integration and Protection of Immigrants Paul Van Aerschot, Patricia Daenzer, 2016-02-24 In Scandinavian countries, immigration is a sensitive issue and legislators' approach to the questions it has raised has varied over the years. Whatever immigrant and integration policies are adopted in a democratic society, it is clear that the legislation and the authorities have to ensure that the individual rights of the immigrants residing in its territory are respected. With Canada as a point of reference, this book draws attention to weaknesses in the regulation and implementation of integration provisions threatening the immigrants' individual rights in the EU member states of Denmark, Finland and Sweden. The study challenges readers to critically review the meaning of rights and the notion of global caring. It takes a critical look at how vulnerable immigrants fare in a largely immigrant nation with a welfare capitalism legacy when compared to three European nations which claim to embrace institutional welfare models. This book will be of great interest to scholars and decision makers interested in Scandinavian or Canadian immigration and integration policies.

(Un)Settled Sojourners in Cities Elizabeth Chacko, Marie Price, 2023-02-28 Temporary migration is a human response to uncertain economic, ecological, political and socio-cultural environments. This book provides an important contribution to the literature on the rights, lived experiences and trajectories of temporary migrants. It focuses on the precarity of temporary migrants at different scales in urban settings, varying from the household, institution and neighbourhood to the city. Temporary migrants experience oscillations in precarity that vary with their categorization as skilled professionals with valued skill sets international students or unskilled domestic workers labourers their ambiguous legal status and the locales in which they reside and work Individual chapters use case studies from around the world USA Canada Ireland Turkey Singapore China to show how temporal and scalar precarity intersect and are mediated by national and local policies civil society as well as the personal and social attributes of migrants themselves such as gender race and country of origin Although often overlooked due to their transitory status the chapters demonstrate how temporary migrants are embedded in urban life and resist their categorization as disposable through individual and collective efforts This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of Sociology Politics Human Geography Urban Studies and Social and Cultural Anthropology It was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies

Dominique Caouette, Dip Kapoor, 2015-12-15 Development studies is in a state of flux A new generation of scholars has come to reject what was once regarded as accepted wisdom and increasingly regard development and globalization as part of a continuum with colonialism premised on the same reductionist assumption that progress and growth are objective facts that can be fostered measured assessed and controlled Drawing on a variety of theoretical perspectives and approaches this book explores the ways in which social movements in the Global South are rejecting Western centric notions of development and modernization as well as creating their own alternatives By assessing development theories from the perspective of subaltern groups and movements the contributors posit a new notion of development from below one in which these movements provide new ways of imagining social transformation and a way out of the developmental dead end that has so far characterized post development approaches Beyond Colonialism Development and Globalization therefore represents a radical break with the prevailing narrative of modernization and points to a bold new direction for development studies
